The Friar's NookHAPPY MAY!

It's hard to believe that we're this far along in Spring and it doesn't look very Springy yet. Last week when I was in New York, all of the trees were out and green and at least things looked better even if the weather wasn't great. I'm hoping as the month progresses that Spring will certainly pop for us.

One thing I've noticed, at least in the parish, as that Spring and new life have gone together. We seem to have lots of babies to baptize and that's a great thing. We had a nice Confirmation crowd and a lot of kids for First Communion, so even if things don't seem to be growing outside, at Saint Joan of Arc they certainly are.

What makes me most happy today, is that I have no place I have to go for the entire month of May! I have been so tired of packing, traveling, returning home unpacking, doing laundry, trying to get caught up on things in the parish, and then preparing for the next trip, that not having to do and go anywhere for a whole month is pure delight. I've gotten to the point or just the thought of traveling for vacation seems like a burden.

As for Bodhi, we are starting classes this month so that he can be a better boy both here at the parish and outside in Toronto. I brought him to the vet for his first visit on Monday and found out that he is 3 1/2 years old not 1 1/2 years old so my hopes for him to grow out of his puppy like behavior have diminished but he's a smart boy and I think with training he'll even be a better boy. He got updated on all his shots, which he didn't care for, and I can't say I blame him, but he should be safe and healthy now. He does his part to keep raccoons out of the backyard now if I can just get him to do his part to keep one particular mouse out of our house that would be great. I'm afraid they might consider this mouse a little friend of his, but I've explained to him that this friend belongs outside, and I would appreciate if he could communicate that to him. I've literally seen this mouse looking at me from near Bodhi's food dish with the questioning look that I fed the big animal how come I'm not feeding this small animal. After all he is becoming more vocal, at least with me. If I'm sitting on the couch and he wants me to play with him he lets me know. Also, as you may have noticed, he is the noisiest yawner I've ever heard!

I'm looking forward to celebrating my first Saint Joan of Arc Day at the end of this month and I think everyone who is helping to put that together does to. Hopefully it will be fun for all.

*Happy Easter,
Fr. Bob*
