Baptism: Are you expecting a child or contemplating Baptism for your child? We have returned to seasonal Baptismal Weekends. For further information, please contact Tom in the Parish Office: 204-488-4467.

RCIA:

This is the time to deepen your relationship with God. If you are considering being baptized, becoming Catholic, or if you just want to learn more, consider joining the RCIA (Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults). Contact Tom in the Parish Office at 204-488-4467 ext. 217. Sessions are held Sundays from 10:30-11:30am.

Funeral Ministry:

One of the greatest ministries that Saint John Brebeuf is called to witness to is the welcoming of people who have had a death in their family. We are trying to establish a group of good hearted people who will welcome people who come to our parish during the emotional and stressful time of the death of a loved one or friend.

For all funeral Masses, our Funeral Ministry prepares the church, serves as hospitality ministers for the family and arriving guests, and serves as Extraordinary Ministers of Communion when needed. This ministry is on an on-call basis. Most funerals are celebrated at Saint John Brebeuf Church on weekdays at 10:30 am.

Funeral Ministry Qualifications:

All are welcome who have a love for ministering in hospitality to others.

Upcoming Training Sessions:

Training provided when new volunteers express interest. To sign up, please contact Tom in the Parish Office: 204-488-4467 (Ext. 217)

June 4/5, 2016: 10th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Tenth Sunday in Ordinary Time: 1 Kings 17:17-24; Psalm 30; Galatians 1:11-19; Luke 7:11-17

Many people today promote a positive mental attitude. Books, podcasts, and lectures hail the benefits of an upbeat look at life. The gospel is our Christian source of hope and promise. The readings today tell us to accentuate the positive and rejoice with those who overcome severe trials.

Today's first reading comes from First Kings. This book, together with all those from Joshua to Second Kings, tells the history of Israel. Elijah is the star of this first reading; he was a ninth-century prophet. Elijah encounters a desperate woman. She is part of a society in which females had little social status and less financial security. She is already a widow and now her son has died. Elijah prays, opening the door to a celebration of victory as the son is restored to life.

Reversal of fortune is also proclaimed in Psalm 30. In distress the psalmist calls out to the Lord, our God, who rescues him from the nether world. In a communal worship service the people celebrate this triumph. The one-time victim now declares, "You have turned my mourning into dancing!" (verse 11).

Luke's account has Jesus repeating the act of Elijah: He restores life to the only son of a widowed mother. This passage interestingly calls Jesus "Lord," a title generally applied to him only after the Resurrection. Elijah prays to God several times to bring about life; Jesus speaks on his own authority.

The witnesses to Jesus' compassionate response immediately celebrate this good news, "Fear seized all of them; and they glorified God" (Luke 7:16). This news could not be contained -- word spread quickly giving all people new hope.

Who among us does not know some obstacle or trial? Living constantly confronts us with seeming failure, failure that a positive and faith-filled view would recognize as opportunity for success and hence growth. Like Elijah and Jesus, we are able to tap the Lord's power and so turn our mourning into dancing.
