Praying for the Dead: Catholics believe that after you die you might go to heaven, hell or purgatory. Because of this, we believe that people who have died can be helped by our prayers and we have a strong tradition of praying for the dead. As well as regularly praying for the dead, and especially those we have loved, we often particularly remember the deceased on the anniversary of their death. November is a month when we remember all the dead. You are invited to write the names of your deceased loved ones in the "Book of the Names of the Dead", which will be in a prominent place during the month of November.

Pastoral Associate:

The "Investment Banker" of God's Gifts

When I ask people why they do not come to church, the number one answer is unequivocally, "I don't get anything out of it." We hear today in Matthew's Gospel that it is God who expects to get something out of us. This can be intimidating—as it was for the third slave who buried God's talent out of fear. What do we possibly have to offer to God? The good news is that God blesses us with gifts, so we need not fear that God demand of us something we are not capable of. Baptized and Confirmed in Christ, we share in Jesus' three-fold identity as priest, prophet, and king/queen. God equips us to bless the world and make it holy (our priestly mission); to proclaim the good news of the Gospel (our prophetic mission); and to govern what has been entrusted to us as stewards (our royal mission). God calls for us to joyfully invest the gifts given to us, rather than hide them. A pastoral associate is a lay minister who helps the faithful discern and form their gifts to serve the Church's three-fold mission. My job is to help the St. John Brebeuf community invest their gifts in servant-leadership. God has given you gifts; come and see me if you feel like they are buried.
