CR CORNER

This Second Sunday of Easter has been designated by the late Pope John Paul II as Divine Mercy Sunday. As a Church, we celebrate the gratuitous gift of God's mercy toward each of us. This mercy is reflected through the Risen Christ to Thomas the Apostle, when he refused to believe the other Apostles that the Lord has been raised from the dead. Rather than give up on Thomas because of his unbelief, he appeared to Thomas and invited him to put his hands into the wounds of his flesh. The Risen Lord did not give up on him but gently and lovingly called him from unbelief to faith in him. We too, like Thomas, struggle with doubts about the presence of the Risen Lord in our lives, particularly when we experience misfortune, suffering, tragedy or loss. A loving God can be the furthest thing from the truth for us during those times. However, even during these experiences, our Lord reaches out to us and invites us to know that he understands our wounds and will transform that unbelief into belief in a merciful and loving God. As Thomas proclaimed: "My Lord and my God!" as he experienced the Risen Christ sharing in his wounds of unbelief, may we cry out with that same proclamation of faith when we are brought to belief that our God shares his life and love with us in our woundedness.
