May 19, 2019– Fifth Sunday of Easter

The witness of the Apostles and the early Christian community serves as an encouragement for us. Paul and Barnabas waste no time in journeying to many different places, bringing the Good News of the Resurrection of Jesus to all who would listen. Despite challenges and setbacks, they persevered and when they had completed the route, they returned home, gathered the community together to pray and reflected on how the Holy Spirit had been at work in those who received the message with openness.

In the Book of Revelation, John relates how, through the Resurrection, all is being made new. This happens in Christ.

The insert this weekend is our opportunity to share in the work of re-creation. We are being invited to trust and allow the Holy Spirit to lead us. Please read it over carefully.

The last few months have been incredibly busy with the pastoral team meeting often to prepare for the Family of Parishes. There have been staff assessments and job descriptions to create, long-range planning and office realignment plans. The next few weeks will be a blur. It will seem like the schedule is all over the place and this is due to our attending our new school year-end masses to meet all the staff and students and get acquainted, meet with parish leadership and plan for the establishment of one office with all the staff coming together. Please keep us in your prayers.
