GOSPEL REFLECTION

Matthew 25:31-46

On the final Sunday of the Church year, the feast of Christ the King, we learn most definitely how our lives will be measured. They will be measured by the love we show. Whenever we offer a drink of water to the thirsty, food to the hungry, clothing to the naked, or whenever we visit the sick or imprisoned, or take in the stranger, we show our love to God. Through our actions towards the poor, vulnerable, estranged and discouraged we show our love of God. If we ignore these people, we also ignore God.

It is easy to see the meaning of this gospel through our actions toward our children. Never in true thirst or hunger would we deny them. If they were sick or cold we would take care of them ourselves or see to it that someone helped us. It's taking this gospel to the next level that will help our children see the meaning of love through our example. Not only will they witness love through our loving actions toward others, but there will be many opportunities along the way to have our children share in these actions of love.

Discussion Question: How might my attitude change if I were to see Christ in every person I meet?

A note of thanks was received this week from Fr. Gary Ducharme, pastor of St. Peter's Parish in Goderich. He acknowledges the financial aide received from our parishes towards the relief efforts following the tornado. He indicated that the tornado is still the topic of conversation for many and that there is lots of reconstruction taking place. Many thanks and God Bless you for your financial and prayerful assistance.

ADVENT REFLECTIONS:

Once again, the Advent & Christmas reflection booklet, WAITING IN JOYFUL HOPE will be available following the Masses this weekend and next weekend. Cost is $2.00 per copy and will be sold on a first come-first serve basis. A limited number of copies will be available for each parish so get yours today. COD and no layaways please.

The Lord be with you. And with your SPIRIT.

We will begin using the New Roman Missal translation of the Mass next weekend, the First Sunday of Advent. You have been using many of the new responses over the past weeks and now, I will begin following a new text for the proper of the Mass. You may find it helpful to follow the Mass from the Celebrate in Song, found in the pews. As for me, my eyes will be glued to the new Missal. Patience!! ~ Fr. Rick

FEAST OF CHRIST THE KING

For Roman Catholics (and many other Christians), this Sunday (which we Catholics observe as the Solemnity of Christ the King) marks the end of this liturgical year (Year A, or the "Year of Matthew"). Christ the King is a major feast in the Catholic calendar, celebrating the paradoxical kingship of Christ, a king of justice and peace, whose reign is marked by solidarity with the suffering and excluded, and who spends much of His ministry at odds with the powerful and influential of His time. The Catholic lectionary chooses this Sunday to reflect on Jesus' description of the Final Judgement in Matthew 25---a rich, inspiring and very challenging Gospel, especially for those of us who live in relatively affluent Western societies, who can very easily neglect or ignore the poor, the hungry, the homeless and the needy in our midst. Its words are very sobering as we reflect on our own lives and priorities. This Sunday marks a significant transition ... It both concludes a year largely focused on the Gospel of Matthew and, for us in the English-speaking Catholic world, it marks the Sunday when we will use, for the last time, the English translation of the Mass that we have been using for most of the last 40 years. As of the First Sunday of Advent, we will be switching to a new translation of the Roman Missal, which adheres much more literally to the wording and structure of the original Latin version, and for which our parishes have been preparing for several months now. It will be a very noticeable liturgical change and, for some people will be something of a "shock" to shift from words they have loved for the last two generations. Let us keep each other in our thoughts and prayers as we make this change.
