TWENTIETH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

August 14, 2016

Our Gospel today both consoles and challenges us. In times of sorrow and trouble the Gospel is a source of great comfort. Yet it also challenges us to shun the darkness and to choose the Light, to be with Jesus and not against him. An old saying has it: "he has come to afflict the comfortable and to comfort the afflicted."

Jesus is not just a 'nice' guy who flatters people by saying only 'nice' things to them. He disturbs our conscience in areas we need to be challenged to think over. We can't simply take or leave his words because he is God's Son incarnate in our human nature. To choose to follow him may indeed be a challenge to the status quo as not everyone will agree with our choice to live the Christian way of life. Indeed we may even be thrown out of our own families, or lose the people we thought were friends. He doesn't use a sword or any kind of weapon to challenge us to stand up for him. He is not using force or coercion to win over the allegiance of his disciples. As we pray at Mass before Holy Communion: "I bring you Peace, my Peace I give you, not the peace that the world gives."

Here is a reflection on "true and false peace":

A swamp may look nice on the surface,
but its depths are full of rotten things.
Peace that is based on injustice is like that.
It is a false peace and Jesus came to disrupt it.
But then there is true peace.

A peace in which all of God's children have their basic rights respected, and are able to live in freedom and dignity.
This is the peace Jesus came to bring.
But peace like this doesn't happen; it has to be made.
Sometimes the peacemakers will be branded trouble-makers.

But Jesus had another name for them: he called them "children of God".

VOCATIONS INFORMATION

THE VOCATION OF MARRIAGE

When the Catholic Church teaches that marriage is a Christian vocation it is saying that the couples relationship is MORE than simply THEIR choice to enter a union which is a social and legal institution. In addition to these things marriage involves a call from God and a response from a man and woman who promise to build with the help of divine grace, a lifelong, intimate and sacramental partnership of love and life. Those who are called to the married life should be ready to learn what their vocation means and to acquire the virtues and skills needed.

The call to marriage is a particular way of living the universal call to holiness given to every Christian in the sacrament of Baptism. "The love of husband and wife becomes an image of the absolute and unfailing love with which God loves"
