The Fifth Sunday of Easter May 14, 2017

1. Connecting the Office Building to the new Church - I thought that I should let you know that we are still in discussions with the architect and the Diocese regarding the linking of the Office Building to the new Church. Whether we connect it or not, we will have to finish the exposed portion of the Office Building before the snow flies! I will keep you informed.

2. Family of Parishes - The Bishop, after wide consultation across the Diocese, is now prepared to announce his decision on the Families of Parishes. He plans on doing this at the Pastoral Study Days which take place at the end of the month. At that time, he also will name the Pioneer Families which will be established this coming year. I am sure that there will be a bulletin insert from the diocese announcing this information.

3. New Tables for the Parish Hall - I would like to thank the CWL and the K of C for their much appreciated donations that have enabled us to purchase new tables for the Parish Hall. The old wooden ones served us well over the years. By the way, we are selling the tables for $20 each and a number of wooden chairs are available for $3 each. If you are interested in purchasing either of these, please see Joe Piorro during the weekdays.

VOCATIONS CORNER – Vocations as a Single Person

The laity has a significant role in our Church today. We are called to social ministry to fulfill our baptismal responsibility. By deepening our spiritual life, we can assess our God-given talents and discern how best to offer these in service to Jesus Christ.

Single persons can serve for a certain number of years as lay missionary to our needy world; putting their faith into action in our country in parishes, schools, social agencies and hospitals, soup kitchens and child-care centres. They can be teachers, construction workers, home care aides, accountants, etc. Single people can serve in a church-related career such as religious education, campus ministers or prison ministers.

Associates may be single men or women who want to enrich their Christian life by an affiliation with a religious community of priests, brothers or sisters. Members take vows of poverty, celibacy, and obedience but do not wear distinctive attire or live in a community as do members of religious orders. They may live alone or with family.
