Body and Blood of Christ

The disciples knew the immense crowd was growing hungry. "Send them away," they urged Jesus, hoping the people would find food elsewhere. But Jesus said, "You give them something to eat." Think about that. Jesus could have turned the stones into bread; he could have made it rain manna. Instead, he made it the disciples' responsibility to meet the crowd's need.

How did they respond? Faithfulness. Logic may have said the task was impossible, but they stepped out in faith – because Jesus asked. They gave it their all, and even though their all wasn't nearly enough, they still brought it in faith – because Jesus asked.

What "impossible task" might Jesus ask of us this week? To whom is he asking us to give? How will we respond?

If we focus on our few loaves and fish, we see only what is lacking. We feel unprepared, ill-equipped, and eventually we talk ourselves out of acting. It isn't enough anyway. What difference would I make?

But if we focus on Jesus, and give him our all, we become part of the difference he will make. In today's celebration, bring Jesus your fish and loaves. Give him your all, and trust that in him all are fed, that all are filled.

Living the Gospel by sending food to developing countries

Irma is a 29-year-old single mother to four children in El Salvador. Her children suffer from malnutrition because she earns just $5 per day selling household items at an outdoor market. A local charity reached out to Canadian Food for Children (CFFC), a ShareLife-funded agency. CFFC began sending shipments to her community that include food, clothing, and toys. Irma is relieved to receive ongoing support to help her feed her family.

Please make a sacrificial gift to ShareLife through your parish or sharelife.org
