THE FIRE AND WATER OF BAPTISM

There are three parts of the process of Baptism I'd like to highlight. See if this is how you experience your baptism.

First: It's a lifestyle change.

Understand that for us, to be baptized as a Christian means to undergo a lifestyle change in the depths of our body, mind, and spirit. We actually take on the new life of Christ—as St. Paul says, "No longer just me acting, but Christ in me." If that isn't a dramatic lifestyle change, I don't know what is! Once our life becomes "Christ in me," we look at the world through the loving and compassionate eyes of Jesus. We try to imitate his actions, and spread his love far and wide

Second: It's a lifetime change.

When we were baptized, we entered into a stream of life that's got a history to it. It's the sacred tradition of all those women and men through the ages, who have tried to be faithful to following God through Jesus Christ.

Baptism means we're claiming our part in that history, like saying "I do" in the wedding ceremony. And we carry the tradition with us: when we die, we leave behind either a continued stream of goodness and love, or a legacy of missing links and wasted opportunities.

Third and finally: It's a Genetic Change!

Yes, we actually get a whole new DNA, because baptism bonds us to a new Body—the Body of Christ. Think of it--baptism means never having to be alone. Every creature has already been loved into existence by God. Christian baptism indelibly links us to each other in a way that allows us to act as one body in Christ. So we reach out to bring Christ's love to the world—to every suffering creature. But being linked means we stand arm in arm, or maybe heart to heart, with others who have made this choice

Go in peace to love and serve our God!
