I have often wondered about the 70 disciples that Jesus sent out into the mission field during his ministry among the people of Israel. According to the Gospel of Luke 10:1-24, Jesus decides to send forth this group to preach the good news and cast out demons. He says to them, "The harvest is great, but the workers are few; ask then the Lord of the harvest, that He may put forth workers to His harvest. Go, I send you forth as lambs in the midst of wolves..." I really admire these mysterious people. They must have been a very courageous bunch in their willingness to strike out with only Jesus' blessing and a few basic instructions.

As we continue into the home stretch of our capital campaign, I want to lift up and celebrate with gratitude our own group of "70 disciples" - the volunteer Campaign Ambassadors who have been making home visits to inform and inspire us. While I'm sure they haven't encountered any "wolves" out there in the mission field, they are the ones who have been doing the heavy-lifting in terms of connecting with people, explaining the construction programme, and outlining for us the pledge process. Jesus was right about our parish: the harvest is great. And our workers are also great in their care, generosity and commitment to the cause. Let us to continue to pray for them in their ministry and to receive them with joy, respect and generosity as they continue their work in these last six weeks of the campaign

..... A Reflection by Michael Hryniuk

Have you been touched by an Angel?

Over the next few weeks, our Ambassadors will be busy visiting your homes and providing you with information around the Capital Campaign. Each completed visit, support (financial or otherwise) will be represented on the Capital Campaign Angel. In Fr. Michel's words last week, "let's fatten up our Capital Campaign angel". Let us proclaim to the world what the collective strength of our congregation can achieve.
