PENANCE & RECONCILIATION

During his public life, Jesus not only forgave sins, but also made plain the effect of this forgiveness: He reintegrated forgiven sinners into the community of the People of God from which sin had alienated or even excluded them. A remarkable sign of this is the fact that Jesus receives sinners at His table, a gesture that expresses in an astonishing way both God's forgiveness and the return to the bosom of the People of God.

"The whole power of the sacrament of Penance consists in restoring us to God's grace and joining us with him in an intimate friendship." Reconciliation with God is thus the purpose and effect of this sacrament. For those who receive the sacrament of Penance with contrite heart and religious disposition, reconciliation "is usually followed by peace and serenity of conscience with strong spiritual consolation." Indeed the sacrament of Reconciliation with God brings about a true "spiritual resurrection," restoration of the dignity and blessings of the life of the children of God, of which the most precious is friendship with God.

This sacrament reconciles us with the Church. Sin damages or even breaks fraternal communion. The sacrament of Penance repairs or restores it. In this sense it does not simply heal the one restored to ecclesial communion, but has also a revitalizing effect on the life of the Church which suffered from the sin of one of her members. Re-established or strengthened in the communion of saints, the sinner is made stronger by the exchange of spiritual goods among all the living members of the Body of Christ, whether still on pilgrimage or already in the heavenly homeland.

In this sacrament, the sinner, placing himself before the merciful judgment of God, anticipates in a certain way the judgment to which he will be subjected at the end of his earthly life. For it is now, in this life, that we are offered the choice between life and death, and it is only by the road of conversion that we can enter the Kingdom, from which one is excluded by grave sin. In converting to Christ through penance and faith, the sinner passes from death to life and "does not come into judgment."

Catechism of the Catholic Church, #1443, 1468-1470.

5^a di Quaresima - 21 marzo 2010

“A coloro che sono in pericolo per disperazione il Signore offre il porto del perdono; per coloro che sono insidiati dalla falsa speranza e si illudono coi rinvii, rende incerto il giorno della morte. Tu non sai quale sarà l'ultimo giorno; sei un ingrato: perché non utilizzi il giorno che oggi Dio ti dà per convertirti? È in questo senso che il Signore dice alla donna: Neppure io ti condanno: non preoccuparti del passato, pensa al futuro. Neppure io ti condanno: ho distrutto ciò che hai fatto, osserva quanto ti ho comandato, così da ottenere quanto ti ho promesso (Agostino, Commento a Giovanni 38.8).”

“Tutto quello che siamo, lo siamo per un dono infinito e gratuito di Dio. Siamo quindi dei debitori incapaci di pagare, insolventi in radice, ai quali è stato condonato un debito infinito. Siamo così, così ci dobbiamo pensare, così dobbiamo interpretare la nostra vita. Allora è chiaro il senso del perdono dell'altro; non il fare qualche cosa di particolarmente eroico, ma il rendersi conto di quello che noi siamo, il rendersi conto che noi siamo dei graziati, dei perdonati, e da tali vivere. Il che vuol poi dire anche un'altra cosa: la capacità di perdonare non è una questione di forza di volontà o di memoria che dimentica facilmente, anche se tutte queste cose possono verificarsi; ma la capacità di perdono nasce dall'interpretare la propria vita come perdono ricevuto. Se uno riesce a capire esistenzialmente che la propria vita viene da un dono, anzi da un perdono di Dio, allora impara a perdonare, e se tu non riesci a perdonare, ci devi mettere certamente tutta la tua forza di volontà, ma devi soprattutto stare davanti al Signore con la povertà del tuo perdono, dicendo al Signore: non sono capace di perdonare, ma nello stesso tempo lasciando a lui la capacità di farti capire il perdono infinito che hai ricevuto, che ogni giorno ricevi. Bisogna che arriviamo a capire che viviamo del perdono di Dio, e quanto più questa convinzione di fede diventa viva, tanto più diventa efficace e tanto più ci rende capaci di perdonare al fratello (L. Monari, Gesù edifica la sua comunità p. 63).”
