LEAVE THE PAST BEHIND

Encountering Jesus on the road to Damascus radically transformed the life of Saint Paul. The meaning of life would no longer consist in trusting in his own ability to observe the Law strictly, but rather in cleaving with his whole being to the gracious and unmerited love of God: to Jesus Christ, crucified and risen. Paul experienced the in-breaking of a new life, life in the Spirit. By the power of the risen Lord, he came to know forgiveness, confidence and consolation. Nor could Paul keep this newness to himself. He was compelled by grace to proclaim the good news of the love and reconciliation that God offers fully in Christ to all humanity.

As Jesus teaches, it is only when we lose our lives for love of him that we truly save them (cf. Lk 9:24). This was the revolution experienced by Paul, but it is, and always has been, the Christian revolution. We live no longer for ourselves, for our own interests and “image”, but in the image of Christ, for him and following him, with his love and in his love.

For the Church, for every Christian confession, this is an invitation not to be caught up with programmes, plans and advantages, not to look to the prospects and fashions of the moment, but rather to find the way by constantly looking to the Lord’s cross. For there we discover our programme of life. It is an invitation to leave behind every form of isolation, to overcome all those temptations to self-absorption that prevent us from perceiving how the Holy Spirit is at work outside our familiar surroundings. Authentic reconciliation between Christians will only be achieved when we can acknowledge each other’s gifts and learn from one another, with humility and docility, without waiting for the others to learn first.

If we experience this dying to ourselves for Jesus’ sake, our old way of life will be a thing of the past and, like Saint Paul, we will pass over to a new form of life and fellowship. With Paul, we will be able to say: “the old has passed away” (2 Cor 5:17). To look back is helpful, and indeed necessary, to purify our memory, but to be fixated on the past, lingering over the memory of wrongs done and endured, and judging in merely human terms, can paralyze us and prevent us from living in the present. The word of God encourages us to draw strength from memory and to recall the good things the Lord has given us. But it also asks us to leave the past behind in order to follow Jesus today and to live a new life in him.

~ From HOMILY OF HIS HOLINESS POPE FRANCIS Wednesday, 25 January 2017.

A CATHOLIC PERSPECTIVE ON EVOLUTION

Lecture presented by Fr. Thomas Davenport. Many Christians have found it hard to reconcile modern science with their faith, particularly when it comes to evolution. Although they may not realize it, Catholics have a wealth of philosophical, theological, and scriptural tradition to draw on to help address difficulties raised by the developments of modern science. This lecture will lay out some of the fundamental principles that help Catholics understand the harmony between faith and science, and evolution in particular. Thursday, January 25th at 7 pm in the Newman Centre 89 St. George Street. Doors open at 6:30 pm, reception follows lecture. ALL ARE WELCOME. Registration: <https://newmanlecture.eventbrite.ca>.

DIVINE MERCY PRAYER GROUP

Prayer Meetings every Wednesday at 7 p.m. – Parish Hall

OUR FORTHCOMING EVENTS:

HOLY MASS WITH HEALING PRAYERS

Wednesday, January 24, 2018 at 7 p.m. in the Church.
Celebrant: Rev. Fr. Ben St. Croix

A man suffering from a dreaded skin disease came to Jesus and said “If you wish, you can make me clean”. Jesus was filled with pity, and reached out and touched him.

“I do want to,” he answered, “Be clean!” (Mark 1:40 and 41)

Does Jesus love us today, any less than he loved this man? Of course not! Jesus always wants to help us, just as any good father wants to help his children. So come and join us, let us step out in faith and place our trust in our Heavenly Father

LENTEN RETREAT – “CARRYING OUR CROSS AND FOLLOWING CHRIST” Saturday, March 10, 2018 – details to follow Come and join us, withdraw from the busyness of life, in order to listen to God’s Word in silence and deepen our relationship with HIM.
