THE SACRED LITURGY THIS WEEK

Tuesday June 21, St Aloysius Gonzaga. was born in 1568 in Castiglione, Italy. By the age of 9 he had decided on a religious life and spent his time in prayer and reading the lives of the saints. Although he was appointed a page in Spain, he was quite resolved to become a Jesuit. When his family moved back to Italy, he taught catechism to the poor. At age 18, he joined the Jesuits. He served in a hospital during the plague of 1587 in Milan, and died from it at the age of 23, after receiving the last rites from St. Robert Bellarmine. In 1926, he was named patron of all Christian youth by Pope Pius XI. Owing to the manner of his death, he has always been considered a patron saint of plague victims. For his compassion and courage in the face of an incurable disease, Aloysius Gonzaga has become the patron of both AIDS sufferers and their caregivers.

Friday, June 24 - Nativity of St. John the Baptist. Jesus called John the greatest of all those who had preceded him so he received special veneration. Being the precursor of our Lord, he was accorded the same honor as the first great saints of the Christian era, although he belonged to the Old Covenant. Ordinarily the Church observes the day of a saint's death as his feast, because that day marks his entrance into heaven but it was the firm belief among the faithful that John was freed from original sin at the moment when his mother met the Blessed Virgin and was "filled with the Holy Spirit even from his mother's womb". It was St John, the last of the prophets who baptized Jesus at the place at the Jordan where the children of the Exodus were believed to have crossed over into the Promised Land. In the course of John's preaching, he criticized the immorality of King Herod's court, and of his marital situation with Herodias, his niece and the former wife of his half-brother, Philip. The infuriated Herodias plotted against his life and was able to trick Herod into beheading him.

TO COUNSEL THE DOUBTFUL

Counsel, which has often been equated with caution, is connected to the virtue of “prudence” the virtue that directs particular human acts toward a good end. Prudence is not just caution, it sees the best way forward given the goals in mind. But the “prudent” response to a situation is not always the cautious one, sometimes the prudent thing to do involves a bold or zealous response. Prudence and counsel seek the best way forward toward a goal based on the situation and the available options. As a spiritual work of mercy, the goal in this case refers to that which is moral and rooted in our final end of holiness and salvation. Thus while “counsel” in the general sense could include helping a person decide the best way to repair a car, when speaking of the spiritual work of mercy, such worldly issues are not our focus. Rather, the spiritual work of mercy to “Counsel the doubtful” is concerned with holiness and our goal of dwelling with God in Heaven forever. Finding a “good” way (recta ratio) forward is not mere expedience; it is what is moral, upright, and holy.

As a spiritual work giving counsel is directed to the “doubtful,” those of two minds on a certain matter - the “double-minded.” So “Giving counsel to the doubtful” helps the undecided to come to a good and upright decision rooted in the call to holiness and the goal of attaining Heaven by God’s grace.

Today many are doubtful about all things related to religion, especially the Christian religion and most especially the Catholic Church. Especially in the West, there has been a centuries long assault on Christ and his Church; from the historicity of Jesus and the bible and the accurate transmission of the bible through the ages, to all things relating to the moral teachings of the faith. All the Church proclaims and teaches have been steadily questioned, maligned and actively diminished. So to counsel the doubtful, we must take time to be educated about these topics, to seek the truth and learn the facts.

It is surprising how solid the historical record is, how thousands of full and partial ancient manuscripts prove the accuracy of the bible, and how much research vindicates the Church’s wisdom on matters of morality. Whole apostolates and organizations have sprung up to meet the call for the New Evangelization. Many wonderful apologetic books and online resources are available to the seeker to help us know our faith and prepare us to defend it. Our own local Catholic bookstore, St Joseph’s Workshop is an example of this and there are many good online resources such as CatholicAnswers.com and TheFaith Explained.com. Many Churches such as our own offer faith studies to help us understand the Bible, the Faith and the Church. In these times of challenge and turmoil the call to the new evangelization is given to all faithful Catholics to take time to study and use these many resources to learn, live and love our great faith.

UPDATE: The subscription to this wonderful site has been paid for by St. Joseph Parish and so is free to all members and their friends, families and neighbors. We now have a permanent parish code to use for Formed so we can no longer use the international login to login. To access formed you must set up a login account with your own email address. To set up an account our parish code is V9WRHN.

With FORMED you'll find video programs that explain the Catholic faith, explore the deepest meaning of marriage, receive Bible studies on a variety of topics and includes inspiring audio talks. And you'll find presenters like Dr. Tim Gray, Dr. Edward Sri, Dr. Mary Healey, Chris Stefanick, Dr. Scott Hahn, Bishop Robert Barron and a lot more. They're all part of our parish subscription.

It truly is the Catholic faith - on demand.

Coming this September

Psalms: The School of Prayer

We hear the Psalms read or sung at every Mass between the first and second readings, but do we understand their significance? The Psalms are at the heart of the Bible. They are prayers from God that help us learn to pray. The Holy Spirit inspired them. Israel sang them. Christ himself prayed them, as did our Blessed Mother. These sacred hymns become our heartfelt response to God's loving and wondrous deeds for us. Their words captivate the imagination and draw us into a deeply personal encounter with God. Join us next September for this 11 class study. Cost is $30 for registration and materials or $5 just to register. You can register at the parish office.
