THE SACRED LITURGY THIS WEEK

Thursday Nov 10, St. Leo the Great, a dedicated Pope with a strong conviction of the importance of the Bishop of Rome and of the Church as the ongoing sign of Christ's presence in the world. He worked at length to control the heresies of Pelagianism and Manichaeism and with doctrinal controversy in the Eastern Church. When Attila with his Huns broke into Italy, Leo went out boldly to meet him and prevailed on him to turn back. Two years later, the city fell prey to the Vandals; Leo saved it from destruction. He died A. D. 461, having ruled the Church twenty years.

Friday Nov 11, St. Martin of Tours met a starving man begging alms at the city gates. Moved by deep compassion, he tore his cloak in two and gave half to the beggar. The next night, he had a dream in which he saw Jesus wearing the half of the cloak he'd given away surrounded by angels. Our Lord asked him to look at it and see if he recognized it. He did, of course, and realized that he must convert and devote his life to Christ. He then moved on and lived his life as a hermit. He became a disciple of Hilary of Poitiers and together they established a monastery. In 371, Martin was appointed by the will of the people as the Bishop of Tours.

Saturday Nov 12, St. Josaphat (1580-1623) was born in Lithuania and elected Catholic Archbishop of Polotsk (present Belarus). He was caught in a battle between Catholic and Orthodox and criticized and opposed by both: by the Orthodox for being Catholic and by the Latins for being Byzantine. He held firmly to Catholic unity against the Orthodox and just as firmly to Byzantine rights against the Latins, who saw unity only in Latin terms and would suppress Byzantine traditions in the name of Catholic unity. On Nov 12, 1623 he was murdered by an angry mob.

THE MOST HOLY CHURCH OF THE LATERAN

Wednesday is the feast of the most important Church liturgically in the whole world, the Pope's Cathedral, which proudly proclaims in ancient plaques at the entrance, "The most holy Church of the Lateran, the mother and head of all the churches of the city (Rome) and the world." The Lateran is the mother of every church edifice because it was the first Christian basilica in history; it is the head, because Rome, the see of St. Peter, is the principal local Church in the world, and the Lateran is the principal Church of the Diocese of Rome. The Lateran, not St. Peter's, is the Pope's Cathedral, where his cathedra, the chair symbolic of his teaching authority, rests. The Lateran, not the Vatican, is where the Popes resided for the first millennium of legalized Christianity. It's where they celebrated Mass. It's where they gave their special blessings. This is the reason why on November 9 all the members of the daughter Churches throughout the world celebrate the feast of the dedication of their Head and Mother. St. John Lateran is, we can loosely say, the Cathedral of the world.

The site was, in ancient times, occupied by the palace of the family of the Laterani and the basilica, the baptistery, and the patriarchate, that is, the Bishop of Rome's residence - where the Popes lived until the Avignon period - were all built there. The basilica's dedication was celebrated by Pope Sylvester around 324 and was named Most Holy Savior; only after the 6th century were the names of St. John the Baptist and St. John the Evangelist added, and now is typically denominated by these latter.

Initially the observance of this feast was confined to the city of Rome; then, beginning in 1565, it was extended to all the Churches of the Roman rite. The honoring of this sacred edifice was a way of expressing love and veneration for the Roman Church, which, as St. Ignatius of Antioch says, "presides in charity" over the whole Catholic communion (Letter to the Romans, 1:1).

On this solemnity the Word of God recalls an essential truth: the temple of stones is a symbol of the living Church, the Christian community, which in their letters the Apostles Peter and Paul already understood as a "spiritual edifice," built by God with "living stones," namely, Christians themselves, upon the one foundation of Jesus Christ, who is called the "cornerstone" (cf. 1 Corinthians 3:9-11, 16-17; 1 Peter 2:4-8; Ephesians 2:20-22). "Brothers, you are God's building," St. Paul wrote, and added: "holy is God's temple, which you are" (1 Corinthians 3:9c, 17).
