THE SACRED LITURGY THIS WEEK

Friday, October 28th, Sts. Simon and Jude, Apostles.

Simon is called the 'Zealot' (Luke 6:15) (also called Simon the "Cananean," the Aramaic word meaning "Zealot") and Jude is called the son of James. Their names occur in the tenth and eleventh place in the New Testament list of the Twelve Apostles. After the Last Supper it was Jude who asked Our Lord why he chose to reveal Himself only to the disciples. He received the reply: "If anyone loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him." (John 14:22f) Jude is often, in popular usage, referred to as the patron of desperate causes, lost causes... The most widespread tradition is that after evangelizing in Egypt, Simon joined Jude in Persia and Armenia or Beirut, Lebanon, where both were martyred in 65 AD.

World Mission Sunday, organized by the Society of the Propagation of the Faith, is a day set aside for Catholics worldwide to recommit themselves to the Church's missionary activity through prayer and sacrifice.

The foundation of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith was due to the insight and initiative of a young French laywoman named Pauline Marie Jaricot. She was committed to the formation of a missionary conscientiousness' in the Christians in order to aid the Church in its task of preaching the Gospel and establishing it in areas of the world where it had not been before. She saw that the renewal of the Church in France following the Revolution was linked with a renewed zeal for the missions.

Born into a wealthy family in Lyon, France in 1799, she could have lived a life of privilege but instead committed herself to raising funds and awareness for the world missions. As a teenager she appealed to girls who were working with her brother-in-law's factory to make a contribution of one penny a week in order to support abandoned children in China. Soon others joined to help support the missions. In 1822 The Society for the Propagation of the Faith began.

The Society grew to become the universal fundraising organization for all Catholic missions. Pauline Jaricot's life was one driven by concern for the missions and the poor. She died in 1862.

Two main objectives of Propagation of the Faith are missionary Animation and Sharing of resources. Missionary Animation reminds and encourages each baptized Catholic of his or her privilege and obligation to witness and to proclaim the Good News of Jesus. Missionary Animation also offers education and information regarding the life of the church in other countries and strives to nourish and encourage missionary vocation.

Sharing of resources involves the dedication of those who go to foreign lands to share their presence, their personal gifts and their Faith; it also involves to sharing of financial resources...
