JULY 3, 2011

REFLECTIONS ON THE NEW ROMAN MISSAL:
WHY DO WE USE LATIN FOR MASS?

In the West, the Mother Tongue of the Church has been Latin since the Church was established in Rome. After the Second Vatican Council, the Church gave permission for the Mass to be translated from the official Latin version into other languages with the approval of the Vatican. Pope John Paul II first announced the New Missal eleven years ago. The English-speaking world is the first language group to translate the New Missal from the official, original Latin text. The Catholic Church continues to produce her official documents in Latin and in this way every language group has a common 'reference text' to use to make sure we are saying and meaning the same things. At the last World Youth Day in Australia, it was a powerful moment when youths from so many different cultures could pray the Our Father together in one voice in Latin. It was a powerful sign of our unity of faith in public prayer in the Mass. Latin will not replace English as the language in which we celebrate Mass on Sunday, but understanding its importance as the 'core' or original language of the Roman Catholic Church is helpful and important
