Marriages: Marriages are celebrated in the Church where the bride or groom is registered at. When a man and a woman plan to marry each other, they should contact a priest one year in advance and always before the wedding date is set, and before arranging for the reception hall. The engaged are required to attend a Marriage Preparation Course.

Please note: However, if this man or woman has previously gone through any form of civil or religious marriage with another person, the priest is not permitted to set a date for the wedding until the Bishop's office has been consulted. Questions are often being asked about marriages performed outside the Catholic Church by non-Catholic ministers. These are not valid marriages according to the teaching of the Catholic Church, but many can be rectified by simply consulting with your Parish priest to discuss the available options. Sometimes people make decisions without proper information, so if you wish, please contact your Pastor for details or call the Marriage Tribunal at 416-934-3400 ext 300.

Marriage Preparation Courses

How the Rosary Miraculously Led Jim Caviezel to Hollywood: "Our Lady's Hand Has Guided My Life"

"In 1997, I had auditioned for a role that every name in Hollywood wanted. The odds were against me, but I at least got a meeting. "I arrived for my 6pm meeting, but couldn't leave the car. I was plagued by self-doubt. I had made a decision: if this didn't pan out I was going to have to hang it up.

"I believe in my heart that the next 10 minutes changed my life forever. "I'm an emotional mess, so I started to pray the rosary.

"It is 6:05 pm, and I'm still in the middle of the 4th Glorious Mystery.

"I'm already 5 minutes late to meet with the most sought-after director in Hollywood, and I've not finished the decade, so I decided to press on.

"Hail Mary, full of grace...Hail Mary, full of grace...

"When I finally finished it is 6:10 pm. I jump out of the car, dash up to the house, but realize I've got rosary beads in my hand so I turned and raced back to the car to dispose of those beads.

"I opened the car door and made a deliberate move to drop off this rosary, when I get a feeling, right here in my heart that I should take this rosary with me.

"This was not the first time I experienced this sensation. The first time I had this experience, I was 19 years old in a theater in Mount Vernon, Washington.

"The movie had ended, and out there in the darkness, I had a sensation right here in my heart that made me think that I was supposed to be an actor. That this is what God crafted me for—that this is what he wanted of me.

"You could say it was my 'personal annunciation.' A very deep awareness of my vocation. So reluctantly, I went forward.

"My rational sense intervened. I knew nothing about acting, no agents, no managers. I can't even memorize to save my life, as you can see. But I had this conviction. I had a charge.

"So back on the curb I decided to take this rosary with me and make my way to the front door.

"This little maid answers and on her neck is a miraculous medal. "So I say, 'Oh, you're Catholic!' "She says, 'No, I'm not, I'm Episcopalian. Come on in.'

"She takes me in and she shows me the house. As we're admiring the ceiling, I get this sensation in my chest again, but stronger than I had ever experienced. "And without thinking, I reached for the rosary in my pocket, and I say, 'This is for you, ma'am.' "She's startled and says, 'Why did you do that?' "Tears are now welling up in her eyes, and I say, 'I don't know.'

"She says, 'The woman who gave me this medal—the miraculous medal of the Virgin Mary—also gave me a rosary she got from Mother Teresa. But I lost it, and I prayed this morning that God would send me another one. Then you walk in.'

"This woman is now collapsing in tears. I'm shell-shocked. There's a rosary in between us and in walks the director, when he started with, 'Honey, what's wrong?' "And it occurs to me: 'This ain't the maid! This is his wife!'

"When I got home, I told my wife, 'Honey, I've got some good news, and I've got some bad news. The good news is, I may get the part, the bad news is granny's rosary is gone.'

"That rosary and I believed that the intercession of Our Lady led to the first major role of my career. We would be nominated for 7 Academy Awards, including Best Picture.

"Cut to the spring of 2000, I was offered the lead role in the Count of Monte Cristo.

"This was the first time I had to carry a film on my own, and here I was at the pinnacle of what I long wanted to achieve, but I had no peace.

"I'm having Masses said for this movie, and I'm trying to pray, but like you, I was never sure if my prayers were landing.

"An amazing thing happened: we were set in this grand house in Malta. It is the moment when the count must decide whether he will remain with the love of his life, or leave her to pursue his revenge.

"And I look up to the ceiling as I'm weighing this decision. In reality, I'm looking up at nothing. There's nothing up there except white plaster.

"Then the director pulls me aside and says, 'let me show you what you'll be looking at. I found something down the hall that I think will work for the film.'

"So he takes me into the room, and he points to the ceiling. "Well, I'm in shock. there on the ceiling, is a fresco of the Immaculate Conception of the Virgin Mary.

"But it was a sign for me—a sign that the Lord and his Blessed Mother were with me. Through all my trials, Mary had been there all along, leading me by the hand, guiding me toward her son, and my vocation.

"And if you saw The Count of Monte Cristo, you know that that shot stayed in the film, and I'm proud to say that I shared some screen time with the Mother of God."

Our Lady, thank you for guiding Jim Caviezel's career! Please pray for Hollywood!
