Promises! Promises! Promises are made in all three readings this weekend.

a) Micah promises the battered and bruised citizens of Jerusalem that a Ruler will come from Bethlehem who will bring them peace. B) Jesus who will be the fulfillment of that promise will come to do the will of his Father and the sacrifice of his life will replace all other sacrifices that were ever offered in the Old Testament. It will be the perfect sacrifice. c) In the Gospel

Mary goes to visit her cousin Elizabeth who recognizes the uniqueness of the child she(Mary) has conceived. He is the promise of all the Old Testament prophets. He is the promise of God's love for us. God will now have a face!

Promesas! Promesas! Las promesas se hacen en las tres lecturas de este fin de semana. a) Miqueas promete a los ciudadanos maltratados y golpeados de Jerusalén que un gobernante vendrá de Belén y les traerá la paz. b) Jesús quien será el cumplimiento de esa promesa vendrá a hacer la voluntad de su Padre y el sacrificio de su vida va a sustituir todos los otros sacrificios que se ofrecieron siempre en el Antiguo Testamento. Va a ser el sacrificio perfecto. c) En el Evangelio, María va a visitar a su prima Isabel, que reconoce la singularidad del niño que ella (María) ha concebido. Él es la promesa de todos los profetas del Antiguo Testamento. Es la promesa del amor de Dios por nosotros. Dios ahora tendrá una cara!

Promesse! Promesse! Le promesse sono fatte in tutte e tre le letture in questo fine settimana. A) Michea promette ai cittadini feriti di Gerusalemme che un Sovrano verrà da Bethlemme a portare loro la pace. B) Gesu' che sarà il mantenimento di quella promessa, verrà a compiere il volere di suo Padre e il sacrificio della sua vita sostituirà tutti gli altri sacrifici che furono offerti nel Vecchio Testamento. C) Nel Vangelo, Maria si reca in visita presso sua cugina Elisabetta, la quale riconosce l'unicità del figlio che lei (Maria) ha concepito. E' la promessa annunciata da tutti i profeti del Vecchio Testamento. Egli è la promessa dell'amore di Dio per noi. Dio avrà adesso un volto!
