Perhaps you've been wondering about... .. " The Archdiocese of Toronto celebrating its 175th Anniversary - December 17 marked the 175th anniversary of the Archdiocese of Toronto, kicking off a year-long celebration of this historic milestone." Today the Archdiocese of Toronto is Canada's largest diocese, stretching from Toronto north to Georgian Bay and from Oshawa to Mississauga and it is one of the most diverse faith communities in the world. Originally the archdiocese was part of the Diocese of Kingston, on December 17, 1841, Pope Gregory XV1 formally created the Diocese of Toronto and named Michael Power its first bishop. Prior to his appointment, Bishop Power had served the church in Quebec.

The Archdiocese of Toronto is planning numerous historical and spiritual activities to commemorate the 175th anniversary, including a large-scale celebration at St. Michael's Cathedral Basilica on May 30, 2017. In acknowledging this significant anniversary, the Archbishop of Toronto, Cardinal Thomas Collins, remarked: " It is a tremendous blessing to commemorate the 175th anniversary of the Archdiocese of Toronto. It is always a joy to express my gratitude to those, past and present, who have made incredible contributions to our city, province and country, inspired by their faith. Over the next year, we will honour the past, energize our present faith community and look forward to an exciting future."

"The Archdiocese of Toronto has a Catholic population of 2 million with almost 1,000 Masses celebrated across the archdiocese each week in more than 30 languages. The first parish established in the Archdiocese of Toronto was St. Paul's (now St. Paul's Basilica) in 1822, while still a part of the Diocese of Kingston. Close to 800 clergy and 560 religious women serve the faithful in the archdiocese. Copyright from archtoronto.org/ media centre/news-archive/chancery

Note: there will be an extra Mass at 2:00 p.m. on Sunday April 30, May 7 & May 14th

Living the Gospel by helping families in crisis...

Having experienced childhood sexual abuse, Tom originally sought treatment for resulting depression at a local clinic. Since Tom had experienced the death of his wife, his increased drinking, drug addiction, suicidal thoughts, depression and financial loss had placed an immense strain on his relationship with his mother and two sons. Through the 12 step program and other counselling at Catholic Family Services of Simcoe County, Tom has experienced a tremendous peace and healing in his family relationships. “Giving hope and saving lives is what this is all about,” shares Tom, “I am very grateful to ShareLife for the funding they provide to Catholic Family Services of Simcoe.”

Over 21,000 individuals received help in getting their lives back on track though ShareLife supported Family Services Programs.

Next Sunday is May 7, 2017 is ShareLife Sunday
