Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time

“How happy are you who are poor;
yours is the kingdom of God.”

Introduction

Jesus uses the rabbinical tradition of paradox to rouse his listeners from conventional thinking. A life of faith is not an automatic ticket to wealth, status and security. His death and resurrection show quite the opposite. Within life’s trials, the God of surprises continues to save us, if sometimes in ways we don’t expect.

Today’s Readings

First Reading: Jeremiah 17:5-8

Jeremiah’s prophecy is uncompromising and must have challenged his hearers. Trusting in God alone, rather than in human strength and wealth, can seem like madness, but we are invited to do just that.

Second Reading: 1 Corinthians 15:12, 16-20

Paul says that, without Christ’s resurrection, his teaching makes no sense. Either we live and die by this, or we are simply talking nonsense. That is the challenge of faith.

Gospel: Luke 6:17, 20-26

Luke’s Beatitudes are more uncompromising than those of Matthew. We don’t have the “get-out” clause here of being blessed, if we are “poor in spirit”. It is poverty, pure and simple, that is blessed. The challenge for us is to dare to believe.
