Dear Friends in our last bulletin we placed an insert in on “Why Catholic”. Our parish team hopes that you will consider this wonderful opportunity to grow in faith. As you take the time this summer to pray about your decision to join a “Why Catholic” group, Renew International who created “Why Catholic” has sent us the following great ideas to stay connected to God during the summer. Hope these might help you to stay close to God as you rest and relax. Anne from renew writes...

Dear RENEW companion,

We are companions on the journey of life and love in God, and there is no season of the year when this is not so. As we move into summer, the time of year when many of us have a break from the normal routine, here are a few suggestions to help you rest, relax and be renewed.

Try a Walking meditation... This is not just taking a walk. This is a walk where you focus on listening to and directing the movements of your body. A walking meditation practice allows a quiet, focused mind to become an integral part of your life. If walking is not an option for you, apply the same principles to how you do move. Our bodies respond and react to sloping pathways, pebbles beneath our feet, and branches that have pushed through the sidewalk. God created our bodies to adapt and adjust to these changes. Attend to the marvelous gift from God that your body is. May you be blessed and amazed at the profound gift of your body.

Be inspired... Read a paragraph, a chapter, or the entire The Joy of the Gospel by Pope Francis. This wonderful reminder of who Jesus is and how the Gospel finds life in today’s world – in ourselves and in others. It inspires and confirms the life of Christ alive and well in you.

Visit other Catholic communities... No matter where we go on the planet, the Eucharistic celebration is the same. The language may be different or some rituals may be adapted for the culture, but Jesus is the same. When you are away from home, take the time to see how vast, unique, and connected we are as the People of God, the universal church, the Catholic community.

We look forward to our time together in preparation for the Fall season. May you enjoy the blessings of God and the grace God provides to meet the challenges you face.

In this Ordinary Time of our Liturgical Year, may you enjoy the extraordinary love and faithfulness of God.
In joyful hope, Anne.

I join Anne and pray that God will be close to you during these summer days.
