17th Sunday in Ordinary Time ~ July 26, 2015 and 18th Sunday in Ordinary Time ~ Aug. 2, 2015

Dear Friends;

This weekend's Gospel marks the first of five weeks during which the Sunday Lectionary will take a temporary "detour" from Mark's Gospel, and will instead reflect on the famous sixth chapter of John's Gospel in which Jesus describes Himself as the Bread of Life. These scriptures give us an opportunity to speak about the Eucharist and the Real Presence of Christ in the Eucharist (the ancient Catholic and Eastern Orthodox belief, which is traditionally not accepted by most Protestant denominations). As mentioned a few weeks ago when we showed a few clips on the Eucharist during Mass, the Parish Pastoral Council has included in our Pastoral Plan for the next five years, opportunities for us to give teachings on the Eucharist. So now with the 6th chapter of St. John's Gospel being proclaimed in these coming weeks, Fr. Chris and I will be using different resources to help all of us to have a better understanding of our teachings on the source and summit of our Faith, "The Eucharist". We hope that these teachings will help you personally to better understand the true presence of Christ in the Eucharist and equip you to explain what you/we believe when questioned about our Catholic belief of the Eucharist.

Also, this gives me an opportunity to clear up what seems to be a conflict amidst some parishioners as to whether we should stand or kneel or sit before, during and after communion. First of all, it is important for you to know that the Bishop of the Diocese is able to set posture for his diocese as he is responsible for liturgical practices in his Diocese and so, Bishop Fabbro set the following directives in Advent of 2011. He stated: all parishes in the Diocese of London, during the communion procession, will adopt the posture outlined in the universal law; that is, each person will remain standing after receiving communion and once they have returned to their pew. When all members of the assembly have received communion, we will then move to a posture of private prayer be that kneeling or sitting if unable to kneel.

Our liturgical practices and the uniformity of posture is meant to demonstrate a unity within the assembly. As we gather to pray, how we hold ourselves is a reflection of our oneness in Christ. As the reception of Holy Communion is an individual act in the common movement of the assembly, we stand together, as our action is "communal." Think of the Church moving together to the Banquet of the Lamb (Book of Revelation, chapter 5). As we do this together, so too, do we stand together. As Jesus saved us as a community of disciples, so too, do we assume one posture as a community of brothers and sisters. Liturgy is not an individual act – ever. Liturgy is about "we". It is never about "me". I hope this will clear up some confusion and misunderstandings.
