Remembered on the Tree of Life

"Whoever enters through me will be saved, and will come in and go out and find pasture."

Jesus uses the image of a gate today to help us understand how we are to relate to him. He is our path to "pasture," in other words, to the peace and prosperity that we long for. He shows us the way to find all that we need right there before us.

Some people, however, may think that it's better to avoid the trouble of finding the gate and thus choose to enter another way instead. But Jesus says, "Whoever does not enter a sheepfold through the gate but climbs over elsewhere is a thief and a robber." Although this is all cast in the gentle terms of an analogy about sheep, the message is actually rather stern. Jesus is telling us that if we don't follow him, we are taking the wrong course of action. He is not suggesting a kind of relativistic principle that says, "Following me is one of many good options." No. He is telling us that in order to "have life and have it more abundantly," we must follow the path that goes by way of Christ.

This isn't always the easiest path to follow. It might mean taking the long way around a situation instead of a shortcut. It might mean waiting a little while to get to that pasture instead of hopping the fence and finding it on our own terms. Insisting on using the gate may also make us look like fools to those around us. But to be truly faithful followers of Jesus, we need to trust that his way is the best way. We need to trust that, by letting him lead, we will ultimately end up in the best possible pasture.

In our culture, it is becoming less and less popular to believe in one true religion, but as Christians we know that Jesus is the way, the truth, and the life.

Forgiven

"Peace, be with you, my peace, I give you..."

Throughout the Easter season, the Gospel highlights the resurrection appearances of Jesus who offers us the great gift of peace. That gift of peace, which, the world cannot give, manifests itself in ways that profoundly touch our lives, bringing restoration and healing.

Forgiveness is often one of the most difficult and challenging things that we have to experience. When a tremendous hurt has come about and the pain is almost too great to carry, forgiveness can almost seem impossible. However, the ministry of Jesus – the Prince of Peace - reminds us that forgiveness is an important part of every human relationship. Come and join a three part series on Forgiveness. This series, through video presentation and personal stories provide a wonderful opportunity to learn about the power of forgiveness and the true gift of peace.

Session ONE - Sunday, May 21st - Where are you?
