Mission Statement

As the Cathedral parish of the Archdiocese of Winnipeg, we welcome and serve all people on their faith journey as we promote and celebrate the Catholic faith in the living Christ. Through excellent liturgy, we are inspired to embrace social justice and diversity, and foster personal growth. In an atmosphere of acceptance, we encourage hopefulness, love and transformation.

25th Sunday in Ordinary Time

"And the master commended that dishonest steward for acting prudently." It's important to pay attention to the details of the parable Jesus tells in today's Gospel. At first glance, it might seem as if Jesus is encouraging us to be dishonest. But in fact, it's just the opposite. The steward in this tale was reported to his master "for squandering his property." In other words, the steward was not being responsible with what he was in charge of. And the master was ready to fire him on account of it. But then, the steward had a change of heart. (This isn't so hard to comprehend--sometimes it takes a real threat for us to realize we need to change our ways, doesn't it?) So the steward went to the people from whom he had previously collected money to "make friends" with them. How? By reducing their debts.

This might seem to be dishonest yet again, but we need to bear in mind that in the end, the master was pleased with the steward's behavior. So this debt reduction must not have affected the master's pocketbook. Rather, it seems probable that the steward had originally hiked up what the debtors owed the master and put the extra cash in his own pocket. This was the sort of extortion that was common in those days, among tax collectors for example. Now, when the steward was about to lose his position, he thought it wise to go back and return that "dishonest wealth" to the folks who had lost it, and gain some sympathy in the process. So, in the end, the steward was making up for his previous cheating behavior by doing something RIGHT and smart. It's this honest behavior that will enable him to take his place in "eternal dwellings." And surely our honest behavior will have the same effect.

It is with a heavy heart that we bid a bittersweet farewell to two of our staff members at St. Mary's Cathedral.

Bill Wachko has served on our cathedral staff as Operations Business Manager for the past three years. As a long-standing, committed parishioner, our faith community has been blessed to have been guided by his expertise and skills. Though Bill will be missed at the office, we wish him all the best as he re-enters into a well-deserved retirement!

Pat Stepanuik has served on our cathedral staff as Secretary for over 20 years. Also a long-standing, committed parishioner, Pat has been the initial voice, face and presence for all who either call or visit the parish office throughout the working week. Her dedication as Secretary for the cathedral has demonstrated a true vocation that exemplifies the meaning of hospitality towards all, which, is essential to our identity as Christians in the world today! For the wonderful gift that Pat has been to the cathedral community, we are truly blessed and grateful. We wish Pat all the very best as she also enters into a very well-deserved retirement!

We welcome Eva Dunlao who now assumes the position of Operations Business Manager and Nicholas Barker who now assumes the position of Secretary.

For the children of this world are more prudent in dealing with their own meration than are the children of light. No servant can serve two masters He will either hate one and love the other, or be devoted to one and despise the other. You cannot serve both God and mammon."
