BE NOT AFRAID
ANNULMENTS AND THE YEAR OF MERCY

The Catholic Church teaches that marriage is an intimate, exclusive, equal, loving and permanent partnership of a man and a woman, which exists for the good of the spouses and the procreation and education of children. Marriage is brought into being by the voluntary and deliberate exchange of consent of the parties. For the good of all concerned, every marriage, whether of Catholics or non-Catholics, is presumed valid until proven otherwise.

While the Catholic Church upholds the dignity, sacredness, and permanence of marriage, it cannot ignore the reality of separation and divorce in our society. If you have suffered through a divorce, and you wish to know if you are free to marry, the Church is ready to help. If you are a divorced Catholic who has re-married outside the Church and as a result cannot receive the sacraments, the Church is ready to help you, too.

Below are questions and answers about annulment and the recent changes made to the process by Pope Francis. He has made these changes to take effect during the Year of Mercy to encourage people to seek the help of the Church. Many of the most common questions concerning marriage and nullity are answered here. The Year of Mercy is the perfect time to seek the help of the Church. Your parish is ready to help you.

What is the difference between a divorce and a declaration of nullity? A divorce is a statement issued by civil authority and some non-Catholic Churches, which states that a marriage, which occurred, has irreparably broken down. An annulment, however, states that a marriage, as the Church understands it, never existed.

Do I need a divorce to approach the tribunal? Yes. Church law requires a tribunal to be sure that the spouses will not reconcile; one way this occurs is by ensuring a civil divorce has been granted.

What if I don't want my former spouse to be involved? Unless your former spouse is cited or legitimately declared absent, your case cannot proceed. If your former spouse's rights are not respected, the process would be liable for a complaint of invalidity.

Will everything I tell the marriage tribunal remain confidential? Confidentiality is a paramount concern of the tribunal and all tribunal ministers sign oaths of secrecy. However, both parties (former spouses or their advocates) have the right to view any acts which are not known to them. This means your former spouse can read your testimony and the testimony of your witnesses, although they are under no obligation to do so.

Can family members act as witnesses? Yes, absolutely. The judges will assess the credibility and objectivity of any witness testimony according to the norm of canon law.

How long will the process take? This depends on the nature of the case. Major delays can occur when witnesses are not cooperative or forthcoming. A brevore case of manifest nullity or a curial case may take a few months while an ordinary tribunal case may take a year or more. If a case is appealed to a higher tribunal, either by the parties or the defender of the bond, it will ordinarily go to the Canadian Appeals Tribunal in Ottawa. When these cases, however, require submission to the Sacred Roman Rota they can experience significant delays of several years.

How can I make sure I get one of those new "Pope Francis" annulments that are done in two months? The new processus brevior has certain requirements. First, it must be manifestly a case of invalidity. An extreme example is someone forced to marry at gunpoint. Second, your ex-spouse has to either participate or at least agree to the petition. If he/she is not locatable, refuse to contact us, or disagree with the petition it is impossible to use this process. Finally, the tribunal staff must find the proofs for invalidity readily available. If the archbishop is not able to achieve moral certitude in these cases they will be processed using the ordinary process.

How much does it cost? The marriage tribunal is a ministry of the Archdiocese and, as such, is subsidized by the archdiocesan budget. However, those who benefit from this ministry are encouraged offer a donation towards tribunal operations. This is currently suggested at 25% of the tribunal cost, in installments. However, no members of the faithful will be turned away due to lack of funds.

I've never been married, and my fiancé was but isn't Catholic. Do we need to do anything? Marriage is a natural reality and, as such, marriages between non-Catholics are presumed valid by the Church, even if they are not sacramental marriages. The Church, as such, investigates those cases when necessary.

Why would a person want a declaration of nullity? While generally people approach the tribunal when they wish to get married in the Church and are prohibited due to a prior bond, some members of the faithful seek the ministry of the tribunal to offer a sense of closure on their former marriage.

The Jubilee of Mercy was announced by Pope Francis as a year to be lived intensely in each local Church, allowing every person to encounter the mercy of God. United in faith, confident in hope, fervent in charity, let us journey together throughout this Holy Year, rejoicing in the inexhaustible riches of God's mercy.

Ash Wednesday

The season of Lent begins on Ash Wednesday, February 10th with the practice of marking the baptized with ashes as a public and communal sign of penance. Ash Wednesday marks the onset of a period of sober reflection, self-examination, and spiritual redirection. The season encourages us to take a relook at our past deeds and weed out the wrong ones through fasting and prayer. Ash Wednesday is a day of fasting and abstinence from meat. The blessing and distribution of ashes on Ash Wednesday takes place during the celebration of Masses at 12.00 p.m. and 7.00 p.m.

Join us for The Stations of the Cross devotion on Friday evenings at 7:00 pm. during Lent. Friday February 12th devotion will begin with a poverty meal at 5:00 pm followed by Stations of the Cross at 7:00 pm led by the Youth.
