Fourth Sunday of Easter
April 21, 2013

Acts 13:14, 43-52; Ps. 99; Rev. 7:9, 14-17; John 10:27-30
The good shepherd is very possessive of his sheep. They are his personal property and a gift from the Father. He knows them well and promises them the greatest of gifts, life for ever. No one will ever be able to steal them; like a nomadic shepherd, he will fight off thieves. This close relationship of Jesus with the believer is modelled on the loving union of the Father and Son. An anxious Christian can have no greater assurance of the Lord's enveloping love. What must be the attitude of believers face to face with their shepherd? They listen to their master's voice and follow him so as not to become lost. But we are not the only ones he longs to guide and protect. The reading from Acts insists on the universality of salvation. We who experience God's love should lead others to him. The vision described in Revelation shows innumerable people worshipping God in paradise. They have been washed clean in the blood of the sacrificed Lamb, who is at the same time their shepherd. With him their joy will last eternally.
