Third Sunday in Ordinary Time
January 27, 2013

Nehemiah 8:2-10; Ps. 18; 1 Cor. 12:12-30; Luke 4:18-19

Jesus is our liberator. But do we believe that? Will we let him free us? Today Luke the historian begins his account of Jesus' effective, Spirit-filled ministry in Galilee. In his hometown of Nazareth, Jesus declares himself to be the liberator Isaiah promised. (Freeing people from physical and social evils is the bible's sign of liberation from sin.) Thanks to our baptism, St. Paul tells us, we can experience the freedom of Christ.

Through baptism, prejudicial distinctions are erased and all members of Christ's body are called to contribute their gifts for the common good. We are to respect our differences and maintain our unity, no ones gift excluding or dominating another's. When we praise God for others' gifts and are not jealous of them, we are free to carry on Christ's liberating work.

As we approach this Holy Season and to help us prepare our hearts and minds for the journey, our parish is inviting you to spend some quiet time with the Lord by purchasing "The Little Black Book" for Lent. These "six minute" reflections on the Gospels will guide you on your Lenten Journey.

To help you prepare, "the little reflections" begin on Sunday, Feb. 10, 2013 to encourage you and strengthen your spirit in preparation for Easter.

The Books will be on sale at the back of the Church after all the Masses beginning this weekend.
