Thirteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

June 28, 2015

Just before sitting down to write this I was with a dying man. I got back to my office and looked at the readings. The Book of Wisdom states: "God did not make death, and he does not delight in the death of the living." Any of us who have experienced the death of a loved one knows how hard it is. I remember watching my father take his last breath, when I was only 13; I kept asking, "Why?" Many years later, arriving in the hospital room to see my mom's dead body lying on the bed, I asked what the point of all this is. Is there even a God?

Over and over again in our Scripture and Tradition, we are told that God is a God of life, not of death. Today's Gospel reading tells us of Jesus bringing a little girl back to life and healing a woman. So, if God can do that, why is there still death today? Didn't St. Paul tell us that Christ's death overcame all death? I don't think there are any simple answers to those questions. I remember once hearing that a "perfect human" is like a "square circle." It simply doesn't exist. The fact that we are the created rather than the Creator means that we are not THE One; we are imperfect. The greatest example of our imperfection is our death. We are not eternal.

Yet... our faith tells us that something in us lives on. We are created in God's image and likeness, after all. We talk about an immortal soul. This language helps us to formulate in human terms something that is actually greater than our minds can conceive: we are, at the same time, both unlike God and like God. We are flawed and mortal and yet perfect and immortal. We are both created, receiving life from God and others, and creator, giving life to others. We are such sinners, and yet God loves us just the way we are. We are paradox. And that paradox carries into every corner of our lives, not just in the "big" questions of our existence. Changing themes, I wish all the students beginning their summer vacations a time of renewal and enjoyment. May you have a blessed and joy-filled summer.

As we all celebrate Canada Day on July 1 (even though the fireworks were this past week), may we rejoice in all the good that Canada is and offers, and repent of our imperfections. Pray for me as well. I will be at a family wedding in Belgium. I look forward to seeing you all in mid-July. Lastly, welcome to our new Parochial Vicar, Fr. Jim Stenberg!!!

CCLC Catholic Christian Leadership Camp - 2015

Summertime is around the corner, and that means so is camp! The Diocese of London proudly presents Catholic Christian Leadership Camp! Are you or someone you know a high school aged student looking for an incredible opportunity to grow in themselves and in their faith? CCLC is a place where high school aged youth's leadership skills are built by fostering and encouraging God given abilities. This is a fantastic opportunity to strengthen Catholic beliefs and engage teens in a team environment with other youth. CCLC is for youth currently in Grades 8-11 and builds leadership skills and friendships that will last a lifetime!

Visit www.dol.ca for more information or call the Parish Office.

Priests Thank You For Your Generosity

Last weekend, our parish took a special collection to support retired priests. Despite these difficult economic times, we appreciate your generous response to share in the care of those faithful priests who have ministered to your spiritual needs for generations. The priests truly appreciate your support and thank you for contributing so generously to the Priests' Pension Plan collection. If you haven't given yet, you may still return the special collection envelope in upcoming collections. Please make a notation for Priests' Pension Collection on the cheque or envelope.
