November 8th, 2015 - Thirty-Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Back when I was in college, credit cards were something you had to apply to have; there weren't people at the Superstore asking you to get one, or banks sending you applications through the mail. I remember when my roommate's dad applied for one. The application had a space for writing in annual income, and Lee's father wrote "ENOUGH!". He was not about to let anybody but his personal banker know how much money he earned.

Although my college roommate's father's reaction is probably exaggerated, I think it reflects pretty accurately how most of us feel about money: "It's mine, not yours. How much I have and what I do with it is none of your business."

As Catholics, we rank low among Christians in how much money we give to the Church. Part of it may have originated in the reality that in North America, Catholics were often in the lower rungs of the economic ladder. We earned little, had big families, and very little left over to give to the Church. Today the situation is often quite different.

Yet, the Church asks us to give. Scripture is clear that we are called to set aside some of our time and our income and direct it to God. Sometimes we call it tithing; sometimes we call it stewardship. Whatever name we want to use, this weekend's Scripture readings point out the value and necessity of giving—of truly giving, not just of tossing in some pocket change and going on about our lives.

In the end, it's about becoming disciples. Jesus called people to follow him, to be his disciples. That requires some kind of commitment that actually costs us. It means being generous with our financial contributions, offering our talent, and being even more generous with our time contributions.

Time after time, it has been shown that parishes made up of people who are in the habit of giving generously of their time, their talent, and their finances—both to the church itself and to outside causes—are parishes that are alive and thriving. Soon we will be presenting a plan to help with a response to the refugee crisis. I encourage you to be generous. And I encourage you to be generous to Assumption.

J. Maurice

Last Sunday our parishioners gathered on a bright sunny day at Assumption Cemetery to commemorate all the faithful departed in a prayer service.

Did you know our cemetery is the oldest Catholic cemetery west of Montreal? The oldest burial at the current site dates to 1795.

Heavenly Rest's Family of Catholic Cemeteries has been doing a lot of maintenance and updating. They welcome your phone calls regarding needed care for your loved ones' graves. In the spring they will plant a tree in honor of Sunday's service.

ENTERING THE CHURCH--We came into the Church community through the waters of baptism. Each time we come into a church building we remind ourselves of our baptism by blessing ourselves with holy water "in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit."

For centuries baptisteries were at the entrance of churches or even in a separate building: only after baptism could one worship with the celebrating assembly.

With Vatican II we once again began to look at baptism as a sacrament to be celebrated in the midst of the assembly, that is, in the context of the whole community. For practical purposes the baptismal font was placed up front so the assembly could see the action. However, the better placement is nearer the church entrance and within sight of the assembly, so that the rich symbolism of coming into the Church through the waters of baptism is once again evident.

This also allows us to bless ourselves with the water from the one font. Each time we bless ourselves this way, it can be a conscious renewal of our own baptism and entrance into the Body of Christ.

—Kevin Mannara C.S.B.

Attention sacristans, readers, communion ministers, hospitality ministers, adult servers, ushers and commentators, and all those who have considered serving at Assumption Parish.

On Saturday, November 14, Assumption Parish will hold a Liturgical Ministers Enrichment Workshop & Luncheon from 10am to 12:30pm. If previous commitments make this impossible, there will be a make-up session on Wednesday evening, November 18, at 7pm. If someone cannot attend either, contact Kevin and he'll set up an alternate time.

We'd like to especially invite anyone who has ever considered serving in some form of liturgical ministry to join us that day. This is a way to serve our parish and develop a better appreciation for Mass. There's no commitment in attending the workshop. And please encourage others to serve our parish in this way, especially our young people! They may not have thought of it, so invite them; your invitation means a lot. A parish thrives when its members are willing to serve in some way.

Remembering Our Loved Ones

"We have loved them in life, let us not forget them in death."

-St. Ambrose

For the month of November, there will be a

"Book of Remembrance"

located by the statue of Mary facing the altar for you to write the names of your loved ones who have passed away and who will be remembered at all the Masses during this month.

Loving and compassionate God,
 We pray for all who have labored
 For liberty, freedom and justice;
 For those who have made the ultimate sacrifice;
 For those who in life and death have preserved our living.
 Grant that they may rest in your peace.
 We pray also for those who continue to place themselves in harms way in order that peace and harmony might be achieved.

We ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen

Sunday Missals are available for purchase
