The wonders of self-worth ...

"Our Place has changed my life by being more self-confident and being able to do volunteering, able to work behind the counter and serving others.

The staff here has always been helpful and they always encourage me to be able to accomplish, giving me a sense of self-worth. I like Our Place because it allows me to meet new people, and keep in touch with my old friends...I am more confident in knowing how to deal with people and their different backgrounds." – written by Mike, who sought help at Our Place of Community of Hope, a ShareLife-funded agency.

The Priest Shows the Tenderness of Christ

"We the laity have a heart that is hungry for God. O priest of God, give us that knowledge of God which came to you when you were alone with him in his immense silence...Make it short. Make it simple. Talk to us about our hunger and your hunger and tell us that he who speaks through you can heal us and assuage this hunger. We will respond and come to you because you are Christ, especially when you preach the Word, his word. You can heal us and you can assuage our hunger. Eloquence is not important. Sincerity is, truth is, and yourself speaking the truth... Your role is to show us the tenderness of Christ, his compassion, and his mercy. This is what will protect the Church. This is what will bring about its rebirth. Nothing else will...Only God's truth as it comes through you, as you yourself have agonized over it, prayed over it, gone into the darkness of faith and come out with joy... We all want to be holy in the accepted moral sense, but Christ is not a moralist – Christ is God! He doesn't love us because we are good; he loves us because he is good. We know this very well but we forget it all the time. A Christian believes in the mercy of God. So you can give us mercy because you have the power of that mercy, and our guilty feelings will disappear."
