Ruminations

I make no claims to be a gourmand or chef. Subtleties of traces of this or hints of that are really just lost on me. Basically my culinary judgments are yes I like this and would have it again, or no, I don't want this ever again. I guess it is one place where first impressions are a big deal. The first pizzeria pizza I remember having was when my brother started working at Peppy's Pizza in Bradford. I can't even think of any other pizza places growing up. All I remember was that first pizza that my brother brought home as being one of the most delicious food I ever tasted. Then, before we even had stop lights in Holland Landing, a pizza store opened in the new plaza at Grist Mill, Lentini's. They were within walking distance in a pinch. In my mind, the luxury of ordering pizza and having it delivered or picking it up was a great sign of freedom and prosperity. At university we had a pizza place that gave students a discount and they delivered to campus. Probably at least once a week we ordered pizza from Cortina's Pizzeria or what we called Cortina Grease. At some point a guy on our floor would yell "pizza pig out" and everyone ordered a pizza from for the mini celebration. There was a Frank Vetere's Restaurant near the campus and on Tuesdays they would have all you can eat pizza. It was probably not the best business decision so close to a bunch of university residences with students who had small budgets and big appetites. Some students had Kraft dinner as a staple, we had pizza. After university Pizza Pizza was building itself into a cultural norm and for me, it became the pizza of choice. And of course one of the most endearing aspects of that pizza chain is that they opened a store in Holland Landing. But that created a bit of a quandary because there is another pizza store in the Landing. If you had told me while I was growing up that Holland Landing would have three sets of stoplights, two pizzerias and one Chinese Food stores, I would have asked you to check your medication. Sante Fe pizza is the go to place for special occasions. This past weekend was a bit hectic starting on Friday when my two nephews and I started some serious garden preparations and moving of hedges and things. It continued on Saturday with two funerals and some other tasks so when it was time for dinner, In my exhaustion I opted to do something rather unusual, I ordered pizza. It has become rare because of my diabetes, but it was both reward and concession. Someone has mentioned about this glorious pizza place that makes the best pizza. So since my regular Pizza Shop has closed down, I decided to give it a try. I called and they told me half an hour so I made my way there at the appointed time. I went in and was told that it wasn't in the oven yet that they were swamped and if I could come back in 45 minutes. Now 20 minutes or 30 minutes or else it's free is a popular draw, and there have been several occasions when I was entitled, but I never accepted the offers. I realize how hard some of those jobs can be and if I have to wait a couple minutes longer, no big deal. I was not a happy patron but when I returned it was ready. I couldn't wait to get home with the consolation that I was about to dig into the most delicious pizza ever. Well, it was not that delicious, in fact it was a huge disappointment, and I will not be ordering pizza from there again, and their name will remain anonymous. I hear Sante Fe has an Aurora store.

Fr. Roy

Announcements and Events...

Knights of Columbus

Thank-you for your continued support of our Knights of Columbus initiatives that contribute to local charities.

Most of you will remember that we have always been involved in the Ontario K of C Car Draw which is a major fund raiser for all of Ontario with the main recipient charities being the Arthritis Society and Special Olympics. In addition, our council always receives a portion of the money raised for our own charities like SVDP, local food banks, Rose of Sharon, and Pediatric Cancer care.

This year we are participating in the Knights of Columbus on-line 50/50 draw, a draw will be held every 3 months, with the winner receiving 50% of the sales!

There will also be monthly early bird draws for more chances to win! Draw values will be updated regularly in the bulletin.

Please use this site to purchase tickets for the 50/50 Draw:

First Communion & Confirmation

The best-laid schemes of mice and priests, often go awry. Well, the latest restrictions have certainly thrown a monkey wrench into our plans for the celebration of First Communions and Confirmations. Just as all the schedules had been finalized and plans formalized, we have been locked down until at least May 20th.

Undeterred, as soon as things open up again to what we would hope would be at least our 15%, we are going to jump on the opportunity and welcome our young people to the table of the Lord in First Communion, and complete the initiation of our young people with the Sacrament of Confirmation.

Please keep watching the bulletin for updates and vital information. What a tale our young people will be able to tell their children and grandchildren about when they made their First Communion and Confirmation. Who would ever believe such a tale?!!!

Parish Office Hours

The Archdiocese has moved us back into Phase One of Parish Office hours. What this means is that whatever can be done at home is done from home. Our Office hours effectively are all done remotely. No one is in the Office and no drop by appointments are permitted. If you want to get in touch, the best way is to email the Parish. You can phone and leave a message but these are picked up once a day if Fr. Roy can remember the password. This will likely be the case until May 20. We can arrange pick up and drop off of items in the Parish mailbox outside the Parish Office Entrance.

Let us pray for the sick...
