Stewardship Moment- Third Sunday of Lent

In today's first reading from the Book of Exodus, we hear of the hardships endured by the people of Israel on their wilderness journey out of Egypt. The wilderness is a demanding place for human life. Just trying to survive can seriously test our faith. In the Israelites' journey away from a life of slavery and oppression, harsh conditions challenged their trust in the God who liberated them. But their transition brings them closer to God, and they are constantly reminded of the Lord's gracious provision and nurturing. Good stewards believe the Lord's presence transforms their own "wilderness" experiences into a place of divine mercy and nourishment. Reflect on your own "wilderness" experiences. How has God been present for you and nourished you in times of transition? (From the March issue of the International Catholic Stewardship Council, Catholic Stewardship)

"O today you would listen to the voice of the Lord. Do not harden your hearts!" (Responsorial Psalm)

"Lord, you are truly the Savior of the world; give me living water, that I may never be thirsty."

(Gospel Acclamation)

Papal Intentions for March

Universal: Respect for Women- That all cultures may respect the rights and dignity of women.

For Evangelization: Vocations- That many young people may accept the Lord's invitation to consecrate their lives to proclaiming the Gospel.
