Praying for the dead

It is a Catholic tradition to pray for our deceased during November. At St. Charles we are given two means of asking the community to join in prayer for our loved ones. Any parishioner may add their loved ones' names to the Book of Remembrance near the altar. Also you may add a photo or memorial of loved ones to the Wall of Remembrance near the last pews on North side of the Church. It is also an act of love to pray for those who may have no one to pray for them

DEVELOPMENT AND PEACE - FALL ACTION 2013, ARE YOU LISTENING? From Madagascar to Peru to the Philippines, communities and church leaders are sending us an urgent call to action. ARE YOU LISTENING? Development and Peace’s partners have been documenting how the land, water, and health of their communities have been changing since the arrival of Canadian mining companies. They want Canadians to know that the precious minerals and metals under their feet are being extracted and exported, with the promise that the required investment will bring development to their region. However, revenues from the mining operations are not leading to long-term development for the communities, and in many instances, communities are, also, facing gross injustices. These injustices include the displacement of homes, the erosion of agricultural lands, deforestation, pollution of water sources, conflicts, reprisals against those opposed to the mine, sexual violence against women, and the bribing of government officials to facilitate operations. Their voices need to be heard. ARE YOU LISTENING? What can we do? We can read the insert enclosed in this bulletin and be a part of A VOICE FOR JUSTICE. Next weekend we will have petition cards, available for you to sign, at the entrance of the church, asking that our Canadian government establish an OMBUDSMAN who will be a VOICE for these People who are facing these unjust situations. It will only take a few minutes of your time to complete – a simple action that just might result in an Ombudsman – A VOICE FOR CHANGE. Will you follow in the footsteps of St. Francis of Assisi, or, of Pope Francis, and of the many others who have spoken out on behalf of the poor? Please read the insert.
