Medically Assisted Suicide – Why the Catholic Church Thinks the Way it Does: With the passage of Bill C-14, medically assisted suicide is now legal – what is at stake with this decision? The Catholic Church affirms the dignity of the human person, so opposes this legislation. Why does the Catholic Church take this position? How can the Church's position be explained in a simple and straightforward way? What is the difference between medically assisted suicide and euthanasia? What response does the Church provide for those contemplating – either for themselves or for a loved one – medically assisted death? What common ground do Catholics share with others who do not necessarily hold the Catholic perspective? Join Fr. David Perrin Ph.D. for a Workshop and Meditative Retreat to discover the answers to all these questions. To be held at the Galilee Centre, Arnprior, ON from July 7 (7 p.m.) – July 9 (12 noon), 2017. God, Materialism, & Ultimate Meaning

Hurlburt Hall (Room 136), McMaster Divinity College Wednesday, June 14th at 4:15 p.m.: Materialism (the view that nothing exists apart from matter and energy) is growing in popularity today. Given the suffering the world, some find materialism (atheism) easy to accept. But if nothing more exists, how are we to understand the meaning of life? Come join the Hamilton chapter of the Canadian Scientific and Christian Affiliation (CSCA) for a talk by Chris Barrigar (Ph.D. Philosophy, McGill) based on this new book, Freedom All The Way Up: God and the Meaning of Life in a Scientific Age. Chris contends that there are two principle elements to the meaning of life, purpose and self-worth, along with two secondary elements, identity and hope. By evicting God from the meaning of the universe and of life, materialism has also removed 'ultimate meaning' from each of these four elements. This is a much greater problem for materialism than suffering is for Theism. In contrast, God's purpose and incarnation infuses all four elements with ultimate meaning, re-shaping our self-constructions through agape-love, and dispelling materialism's essential meaninglessness. Contact: Daniel Rudisill, danielwrudisill@gmail.com | csc.ca/Hamilton
