Fr. Martin's Corner

Why do we need Church? Recently a young student asked me why he should join the Catholic Church if Jesus and God in particular is present everywhere. I thought about it and figured this might be a very important topic for us to go through. These days it is not uncommon to hear people claim that you do not need a church per se, but you only need a connection. Today I have quoted some authorities in the church to start us off in this conversation. In the next weeks I shall attempt to engage further in this conversation.

Just as there is only one Christ, there can be only one Body of Christ, only one Bride of Christ, and therefore only one Church of Jesus Christ. He is the Head, the Church is the Body. Together they form the "whole Christ" (St. Augustine).

Just as the body has many members yet is one, so too the one Church consists of and is made up of many particular churches (dioceses). (811-816, 866, 870)

Jesus built his Church, which subsists in the Catholic Church, on the foundation of the apostles.

This foundation supports her to this day. The faith of the apostles was handed down from generation to generation under the leadership of the Pope, the Petrine ministry, "which presides in charity" (St. Ignatius of Antioch). The sacraments, too, which Jesus entrusted to the apostolic college, still work with their original power.

What these saints are showing us is that the church is indispensable and that there cannot be any meaningful engagement with the Divine outside the church. This is the conversation we shall try to reflect on very shortly.
