“By the power of the risen Lord, the Church is given strength to overcome, in patience and love, its sorrows and its difficulties, both those that are from within and those that are from without, so that it may reveal to the world, faithfully although with shadows, the mystery of its Lord until, in the end, it shall be manifested in full light.”

~Pope Benedict XVI, Apostolic Letter, Porta Fidei

All-loving God, we give you thanks and praise for mothers young and old.

We pray for young mothers, who give life and tend to our every need: may they be blessed with patience and tenderness to care for their families and themselves with great joy.

We pray for our own mothers who have nurtured and cared for us: may they continue to guide us in strong and gentle ways.

We remember mothers who are separated from their children because of war, poverty, or conflict: may they feel the loving embrace of our God who wipes every tear away.

We pray for women who are not mothers but still love and shape us with motherly care and compassion.

We remember mothers, grandmothers, and great-grandmothers who are no longer with us but who live forever in our memory and nourish us with their love.

Central Themes in Recent Church Teaching on the Environment:

5. Care for the Environment is a Moral Issue.

Because of the place of human beings in nature, care for the environment is never only an economic or technological issue; it is above all a moral one. Any solutions that attempt to solve environmental problems but are based only on utilitarian factors will not provide authentic solutions. This is because both economic activity and the use of technology are human actions and therefore always contain a moral component. The destruction of our environment is due to a neglect of ecology caused by short-term economic interests and the selfish quest for pleasure or profit, and is therefore ultimately caused by a lack of Gospel values.
