Fr. Martin's Corner

Good News/Bad News: First the bad news: Louise Rathier will end her ministry for Sunday Mass at 9.00 am. Louise has been a permanent fixture in our liturgical life at St. Elizabeth and she has offered her life and talent selflessly for our community and our parish is better for it. An African saying: "no matter how sweet the dance maybe, one has to vacate the dance floor at some point", Louise has felt that she needs to cut back on some of her activities after such a long time. She serves two parishes: St. Elizabeth and St. Martin de Porres on top of a full-time job. Because of that, this weekend marks the last time she appears at 9.00 am Mass. The good news: Louise will stay around for the Saturday Mass and will continue to do what she does best. She is a very generous person and is a real evangelist in ministering to many of us and teaching us about the love of Jesus through music.

And now the good news?

I would like to welcome Marcel and Linda Dion to our 9.00 am Mass. I am so pleased that Marcel has agreed to stay on in music ministry. I went out fishing and I caught a biggie. Marcel and Linda do not only come with their talent but bring along their ministry as well. They have been running Magnificat Ministries which will be very much connected with the nature of their service at Mass. The Dions are very well known around Ottawa, having been taught at the feet of the great Fr. Bob Bedard. Many people have confided in me that they are blessed by merely listening to Marcel minister to us through song and praise. He has a special touch he brings to our Mass and like I said we have got ourselves a good catch. Still in fishing language, I hope we can use him as good "bait" to catch us thirty, sixty and a hundred more fish.

Music is very important in praying and we are blessed to have worthy animators for the three different Masses. St. Augustine tells us: "Bis orat qui bene cantat" (he who sings well prays twice). As we say goodbye to one and welcome to the other, let us remind ourselves of this divine truth; to join the choir and sing with them and give them encouragement.
