P A L M S U N D A Y

We need to know that he goes with us in our sufferings, that the crosses we carry are a part of his cross. We are carrying his cross with him, like Simon, the Cyrenian, today in the Gospel. Knowing this does not take away the pain or the fear, it does not spare us the disappointments and losses in our lives. But it tells us that our pain is not the last word of the story. God will wipe away every tear. If we carry our cross with him, He will lead us to the resurrection. As we accompany Jesus and Mary throughout Holy Week, they are showing us the meaning of love. Love means self-surrender. Love means handing over your whole self, everything you expect out of life, everything you want and have, all your actions and thoughts — putting it all in God's hands, to do his will. In his humanity, Jesus had a choice to make. We heard his anguished prayer to the Father in the Gospel today. "Abba, Father, all things are possible to you. Take this cup away from me, but not what I will but what you will." This is what love looks like. Not what I will, but what God wills. This is the love we are called to, my dear brothers and sisters. Holy Week makes us "witnesses" of our Lord's love for us. Let us ask for the grace this week, to testify to the love we have witnessed. Let us open our hearts to one another, as he has opened his heart for us. As we accompany Jesus and Mary on their final earthly journey together this week, let us say to God, as they did: "Not my will, but Thy will be done." May Mary our Blessed Mother go with us this week, as we carry our cross with her Son, that we might join him in his resurrection. -

Archbishop Jose Gomez
