PUT OUT INTO THE DEEP

Duc in Altum! Duc in altum! These three Latin words mean, “Put out into the deep.” They have come to mean “Go deeper into your inner spiritual life,” or “Take the risk and plunge into a personal relationship with Jesus Christ,” or “Trust the Word of God as a guide for your daily life.” Duc in Altum was a favorite expression of St. John Paul II. He used it often, especially in his Apostolic Letter, Novo Millennio Ineunte (At the beginning of the new millennium) in which the pontiff outlined priorities for the Catholic Church for the third millennium. He said, “Duc in altum! Let us put out into the deep! These words ring out for us today, and they invite us to remember the past with gratitude, to live the present with enthusiasm and to look forward to the future with confidence: because Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and forever.” Early one morning, Simon (whose name had not yet been changed to Peter) and James and John had been fishing all night without catching any fish. They were finished for the day, cleaning their nets and ready to go home. Jesus tells them, “Put out into deep water and lower your nets for a catch.” These fishermen know the young rabbi from Nazareth—after all, he borrowed Simon’s boat—but they are not yet His disciples. You can imagine these exhausted men, who have just finished a fruitless, night-long fishing trip, asking, “What? After a long, hard night without catching a single fish? Why is Jesus telling us to get back into our boats and back to work, under the hot sun of daylight, when we have already cleaned our nets?” They might be thinking the young teacher clearly knows nothing about fishing? After all, every fisherman knows that the best time to fish is at night and the best place is close to the shoreline, where the water is shallow and the plant life, which the fish feed on, is plentiful. So, Simon says, “Master, we have worked hard all night and have caught nothing!” Still, Simon listening to Jesus’ words and Duc in altum, says, “but if you say so, I will lower the nets.” Perhaps he was influenced by the fact that Jesus had recently cured his mother-in-law at her nearby home in Capernaum (Lk 4:38-39). Suddenly, they caught a great number of fish. Shocked by this, Simon fell at the feet of Jesus saying, “Depart from me, Lord, for I am a sinful man.” The concluding sentence reveals the whole point of this unusual story. “Do not be afraid, Simon, from now on you, James and John will be fishers of men, then you will be catching people!” The men left everything and followed Jesus!
