THY WILL BE DONE

And won't God do His will if you, my friend, don't happen to say this? Remember what you gave back in the creed: "I believe in God, the Father almighty." If He's almighty, who are you to pray that his will should be done? So what does it mean, Thy will be done? May it be done in me, so that I don't resist Your will. So here too you are praying for yourself and not for God. God's will, after all, will certainly be done in you, even if it isn't done by you. Yes, God's will is going to be done, both in those to whom He will be saying, Come, blessed of my Father, receive the kingdom which has been prepared for you from the beginning of the world, by their receiving the kingdom for their holiness and justice; and also in those to whom he will be saying, Go into the everlasting fire, which has been prepared for the devil and his angels. (Mt. 25:41); in them too the will of God will be done by the wicked being condemned to everlasting fire. It is another matter, that it should be done in you. So you have good reason to pray that it may be done in you--it's so that it may be for your good. In any case, whether it's for your good or for your undoing, it will be done in you; but let it also be done by you. Because whatever is done by you, He does in you. Nothing is ever done by you which He doesn't do in you. But sometimes he does in you what isn't being done by you; never, though, is anything done by you if he doesn't do it in you. - St. Augustine
