ST. RAPHAEL GREEN CORNER
Pope Francis writes: "...yet a number of scientific studies indicate that most global warming in recent decades is due to the great concentration of greenhouse gases (carbon dioxide, methane, nitrogen oxides and others) released mainly as a result of human activity. As these gases build up in the atmosphere, they hamper the escape of heat produced by sunlight at the earth's surface." Laudato si #23

A backyard barbeque is one of the best parts of summer; but we should be concerned about the release of carbon dioxide and air pollution. Burning fossil fuels emits a number of air pollutants that are harmful to both the environment and public health. Sulfur dioxide (SO<sub>2</sub>) emissions, primarily the result of burning coal, contribute to acid rain and the formation of harmful particulate matter. Research scientists from the US Department of Energy, provide data that the Fourth of July season releases approximately 225,000 metric tons of this toxin into our air. So, a question arises: "How can I barbecue in eco-friendly way?" There are several ways to go green while barbecuing:

Tips for Greener Barbequing: Charcoal barbecues are the least eco-friendly of all barbecues so consider upgrading to a gas or electric powered. A more natural option instead of burning standard briquettes, which give off carbon monoxide and soot is the use of lump coal. This eco-friendly, green charcoal saves our forests, while releasing less gas and soot emissions. There are green brands that are not certified, so be aware and choose certified, organic products. Dome grills are designed to capture and retain the BBQs heat produced by the fuel. This ensures that less fuel is burned. Propane grills produce 5.6 pounds of carbon dioxide per hour. Concerned about insects at your barbecue. Here are some homemade recipes to create your own non-chemical insect repellents!

Thank you for your continued support!

On the Fourteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time we read that Jesus was not able to work miracles in his home town. In their eyes, he was just the person they'd seen grow up. This distressed him and he couldn't work many miracles at home.

On the Fifteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time we read Mark's version of the call of the Twelve - sending them out in teams of two with his healing power and his authority over unclean spirits. He told them "to take nothing for the journey." God would take care of them.
