The Friar's Nook

Well, we certainly have turned from summer into fall, so I guess the time for shorts and T-shirts is put away till next spring. I've even had to break out the sweater that Bodhi's foster mom made for him as he's been shivering some days when we go to the dog park.

Despite the change in temperature, I received some good news this week. By the end of this month, we will have an addition to the Saint Joan of Arc parish staff. Br. Alexander Reed, SA is being ordained a Deacon on the 15th of this month (pray for him) and then will be assigned to us for his diaconate. He was an Anglican priest who became Roman Catholic and then joined the friars. He speaks Spanish as well as English and has served in the missions in Patagonia. He comes to us with an interesting past that I invite you to ask him about. He also comes with a dog! She is smaller than Bodhi (and better behaved, but don't tell him).

He will be able to help with the pastoral work around the parish, performing weddings, baptisms, preaching (at last you get to hear another voice!) amidst other things. It will be great to have another friar here working with us. I'll bring back more information when I return from Graymoor next week.

I hope that we continue to grow, and I am excited to see what this fall will bring.

Peace to blessings,
Fr. Bob
