EMBODYING THE DIVINE DANCE

“Hope does not disappoint us” - this line from St. Paul in today's second reading is the title of the Papal Bull that guides our current Jubilee Year – in Latin: Spes Non Confundit. If you have not yet had a chance to read this document, I encourage you to do so. We are called during this Jubilee Year to be Pilgrims of Hope, bearers of Good News in our world. We should reflect as a faith community on what brings us hope, and who might be most in need of hope in our world.

We have returned to Ordinary Time, the Since 1856, St. Basil's Parish has been home to people of all ages and needs. We are blessed because you are all here!

Mothers are welcome to nurse their children in church or provide them snacks as needed. If you need to, feel free to walk with your child in the back of the church or in the hallway off the side aisle.

liturgical season oriented towards our growth in faith and discipleship. The first Sundays after Pentecost are focused on the central mysteries of faith, and we celebrate Trinity Sunday today.

I find great hope in the mystery of the Trinity – even as it is beyond my complete comprehension. We believe in a God who is in relationship in God's very self. One of the ways this relationship is described in the early Church is perichoresis: mutual exchange, a dynamic energetic relationship of loving intimacy, where each person of the Trinity has distinct personality, but is together, in relationship, indivisible, participating in a divine dance. We believe we are made in the image and likeness of this relational God. We belong to God, and we belong to each other.

We who have been baptized in the name of this Trinity: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, are called and empowered to bear this identity in our life in the Church and in the world. Imagine a community of faith that lived out our vocation to bear God's Trinitarian image. A community where everyone belongs, is known, loved, and cared for, and is themselves, fully alive. Where we knew we encounter mercy and could grow, transform, and be drawn more deeply into friendship with God. Where those who suffer are tenderly cared for, and there is space for wrestling with life's big questions. Where authenticity, vulnerability, joy, and delight permeate our way of life. Where we are One Body, interconnected, bound together in love.

Would this not be a beacon of hope in a world in desperate need for meaning, belonging, and hope? Would we not be living out our call to be Pilgrims of Hope, calling all people to encounter the Good News?

Let us pray for our parish to be such a beacon of God's Triune life in our neighbourhood. How could we each contribute to making this vision a reality? We can start small – reach out to the stranger sitting in the same pew as you at Mass, or to your neighbour in your building. Ask the Holy Spirit for guidance as we live out our Christian identity. Reach out to bridge the gaps between us and allow grace to transform us into God's very image and likeness. In this way we too can enter into and embody the divine dance.
