Dear parishioners

Thank you for welcoming me to Annunciation Parish. It was nice to see so many of you this weekend.

As you know, Fr. Paul Edmonstone has submitted his resignation and requested a one-year leave of absence from ministry, which the Bishop has granted. He has felt a need to discern more clearly God's call in his life, and in order to do that, he felt it necessary to step away from active ministry. We wish him God's blessing, comfort and guidance as he discerns his path forward over the coming year. I want to say thank you to all of you who have met this news with love and support for him as well as with the sadness that understandably comes with it. We will continue to pray for him as we make our way forward in this time of transition.

This is a time of transition for the parish. In our diocese, the normal time for the assignment of new pastors for parishes is the last Wednesday of June, and that is when a new pastor will be assigned here. Bishop Joseph Dubrowski has assigned me to be with you until then. I began this ministry among you this past Tuesday, April 7th, and it will continue until Wednesday, June 24th. That is the time frame for this transition.

In my homily on the weekend, I offered some details about myself. I am a retired, Diocesan priest, the first of four married priests in our Diocese. I live in Dundas, with my wife Lorna, whom you will see at Mass. We have 3 adult, married children and 5 grandchildren. In addition to parish ministry, I have a psychotherapy practice where I treat mostly priests & religious, and I also do psycho-social assessments for our Marriage Tribunal, for penal and dismissal cases, and for some vocation applications in our Diocese. Until the end of June, I am restricting that work to Mondays & Tuesdays only, so that I can be of service to Annunciation Parish.

Transitions require freedom and trust. Freedom to meet this time with flexibility and faith, and trust that the Holy Spirit will guide us and strengthen us, so that our parish will be ready to engage with a new pastor at the end of June. May God bless and guide all of us as we move towards our future together.

Warm regards,

Fr. Ed Hampson
