Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time—January 28th, 2018

From The Pastors Desk...

If I had to pick one thing that I've learned from all of my education that has most impacted me, it would be the focus on the humanity of Jesus. It's easy to believe that Jesus is God; we have almost 2000 years of collective memory that tells us so. It's much harder for me to grasp his humanity. To think that God would want to come and be part of this simultaneously complex, beautiful, messy, messed-up, and sinful world is hard to conceive. Yet, that is what our faith tells us. And even more incredible is that both Jesus and Paul tell us that we, too, are God's children, and Jesus is our brother. It is so easy for me to say that I believe it, and much harder to live it.

In this weekend's readings, Moses tells the people that God will raise up a prophet from among their own kin. And in the gospel passage, Mark lets us know that the unclean spirits are the ones who recognize Jesus' uniqueness. The people just saw another person; it is hard, sometimes, to recognize specialness in your own kin, in another person like yourself. We want God to be different, but sometimes God is hidden right here among us, even among our own kin.

On a different note, I want to let you know that Citizenship and Immigration Canada has now granted me permanent residence! It's nice to know that I'll be able to stick around and be a part of this community without the worry of my visa running out. In another couple of years I will be eligible to apply for citizenship.

And, I am very pleased to announce that the Basilian Fathers have appointed Steven Huber, CSB, to Assumption parish for his diaconate year. Steven is currently a Basilian seminarian, and will be ordained deacon on May 12th. He will be joining us this July for approximately one year, and will most likely be ordained to the priesthood in the spring of 2019. I think it will be a privilege for all of us to be a part of his formation. I hope he will come visit us sometime before the summer. In the meantime, I invite you to support him with your prayer.

J. Maurice

10:00am—School mass, Parishioners welcome
7:00pm

When we come to mass we offer the gift of ourselves back to God in Thanksgiving for all he has given us. We are called to use our gifts fruitfully, for the benefit of others, and as a result, for our own growth.

If you are currently considering giving of yourself in any parish ministry that is new for you, please contact Jean Beneteau at the parish office to assist in discerning the best use of your gifts and to discuss training and formation for the ministry of interest to you.

Whatever you feel called to do, your gifts are welcomed and appreciated.

or 519-253-2493 Ext. 236

Participate in our Lenten Mission and Celebrate Family Day all together!

During the LENTEN MISSION February 17th thru to the 21st, facilitated by Barbara Eckert, we will be celebrating Family Day, Monday February 19th, with an intergenerational dinner followed by the evening mission presentation and facilitated conversation.

All are welcome to attend with (or without) your family members, as we are also a parish family. Children are most definitely included!

Registration is required. Please sign the registration lists on the counter at the entrance to the church, or contact Jean Beneteau at jbeneteau@dol.ca to indicate your attendance and the number of people in your group.

There is no entry fee, though a free will offering will be accepted.

See the posters in church or keep your eye on the upcoming bulletins for further mission details.

Call for Conscience Campaign

Assisted Suicide has been legal in Canada since June, 2016. Despite the best efforts of many, Ontario physicians and other caregivers are forced to participate in euthanasia—against their will—with patient referrals. At the same time, only a third of the population has access to adequate palliative care, so they are being denied real choice on end of life issues.

The Coalition for HealthCARE and Conscience is actively working to promote palliative care and defend the conscience rights of health care professionals. They are working to have conscience protection legislation passed in Ontario.

The Ontario legislature has the power to protect conscience rights for individuals and facilities, and to provide adequate palliative care and mental health services, so that people will not see assisted suicide as their only option. On February 4th and 11th we will be asking you to register your email address so the Coalition can help you easily make your voice heard.
