Holy Trinity—June 16th, 2019

From the Pastor's Desk...

Over these past few years I've become more and more fascinated by the concept of Trinity. I think it is our attempt—using the poverty of human concepts and language—to describe a God who is relationship. We speak of the Father because Jesus referred to God as his Father. We speak of Jesus, the Son, as God, because he said that he and the Father are one. And in multiple places in scripture we hear of the Spirit as the presence of God. We hear that we are temples of the Holy Spirit—God actually dwelling in us! God's indwelling is not an easy concept. I can pray to God "out there" or "up in heaven"; I can find the risen Christ easily in the Blessed Sacrament. But it's a lot harder to find God's presence in a flawed human being—whether myself or another—especially when the flaws are more evident than the goodness.

And then there's the next step: finding God in the non-human parts of creation. That's easy when we look at the Rocky Mountains or Niagara Falls, but a bit harder in those things we see every day. A while back I wrote that one of the effects of being faithful to meditation is to notice how everything is connected. St. Francis of Assisi was known for personalizing creation, talking about "brother sun and sister moon", for example. Meister Eckhart, the 13th-14th century German Dominican priest and mystic wrote something that can seem rather shocking: "Is this not a holy trinity: the firmament, the earth, our bodies. And is it not an act of worship to hold a child, and till the soil and lift a cup. And Communion, first seek that from your lover's soul before anything offered from a priest." I think what Eckhart is saying is that we need to see the connections. If God is present in creation, if the Holy Spirit has chosen to live in us, then we are called to make those connections. We are called to find sacredness in our world, in those that surround us, in ourselves—and then we can more easily find it and be awed by it in the Sacraments of the Church.

For me, the hardest part is living what I just wrote. Theoretically, I believe every word of it. But when things don't go my way, or I start judging others, or I don't like something, I find it so difficult to live. I think that may be the reason the Church celebrates the Holy Trinity each year just after Pentecost. It is a way of reminding us that God is not "static" and distant—instead, God chooses to be intimately involved with each of us. May we find God always!

Reflection for the Week

Glory to the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit: to God who is, who was, and who is to come.
God, I believe that you are Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Help me to know you in a more personal way.

To all our Dads, our spiritual Fathers, and our Heavenly Father.
We are grateful to have your love in our lives!

Happy Father's Day!

Remember that we have entered into a year of prayer in our Diocese, uniting us in calling upon the Holy Spirit to help each parish become more mission oriented, and each person to grow in relationship to Christ and to commit to intentional discipleship.

The common prayer for this was distributed in a pamphlet in last week's bulletin. Soon we should have prayer cards available for you. Please be sure to join in the prayer of our Diocese throughout the entire year! Come Holy Spirit, and renew the face of the earth!

Please note that delegates for the national convention of the St. Vincent de Paul Society will join us for the 5:00pm mass next Saturday, June 22nd.

We anticipate that there will be over 200 additional people at the 5:00pm mass for this occasion. The mass will also be bilingual in that there will be a reading proclaimed in French.

Please keep the good work of the society in your prayers and continue to support their efforts with your time, talent and treasure.

Project for Angela Rose House for Refugee Claimants

A heartfelt thanks to Corpus Christi Church, to the Interfaith Group, to all who made contributions, and to all who attended this event. Some sixty people from diverse backgrounds shared food and fellowship, and heard inspiring words from the refugee claimants themselves, from their director, Ilda Demir, and the founder of Angela Rose House, Sr. Helen Petrimoulx.

The Angela Rose House, was begun and is supported by the Holy Names Sisters. It is always in need of a household supplies and other goods for their residents, and a wonderful response was provided by the exceptional generosity of various faith traditions.
