Working Wonders for Young People...

"They stuck by me so many times. They could have just closed the doors and said, 'You're too much to handle.' I had a bad attitude. I didn't want to follow the rules. I had no structure. But they stuck by me and when I had my son in the hospital, they were there to make sure that CAS was on my side and did not take my son. My son saved me. If he wasn't here, I don't think I would be here either." ShareLife agencies provided counseling, support and community education to more than 8,300 young people last year - offering personal and group counseling to 1,674 pregnant youth and young mothers who turned to them for help.."

PALM SUNDAY REFLECTION

Jesus submits to being borne in triumph, but with what meekness and humility! He knows that His enemies are hiding among the people who are singing the hosanna, and that they will succeed in changing that hosanna into crucify Him! He knows it, and He could impose Himself upon them in all the power of His divinity; He could unmask them publicly and disclose their plans. However, Jesus does not wish to conquer or to rule by force; His kingdom is founded on love and meekness. The Evangelist says this very aptly: “Tell ye the daughter of Sion: Behold, thy King cometh to thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass” Mt 21,5). With the same meekness, He, the Innocent One, the only true King and Conqueror, will consent to appear as a criminal, a condemned and conquered man, a mock king. In this way, however, from the throne of the Cross He will draw all things to Himself.

As the joyful procession advances, Jesus sees the panorama of Jerusalem spread out at His feet. St. Luke says (19, 41-44): “When He drew near, seeing the city, He wept over it, saying, “If thou also hadst known, and that in this thy day, the things that are to thy peace!...Thy enemies...shall not leave in thee a stone upon a stone because thou hast not known the time of thy visitation.” Jesus weeps at the obstinacy the holy city which, because it has not recognized him as the Messiah and has not accepted His Gospel, will be destroyed to its foundations.
