PASTOR'S DESK A powerful passage known as "Kenosis."

The letter to the Philippians is a significant theological text and in its second chapter we find a powerful passage that describes the humility and selflessness of Jesus Christ. The passage is a hymn that has come to be known as "Kenosis," a theological term transliterated from a Greek word which means "emptying". In Christian theology, the concept of kenosis refers to self-emptying or selfrenunciation of Jesus Christ.

"In your relationships, with others," Paul writes, "have the same mindset as Christ Jesus: who, being in very nature God, did not consider equality with God something to be used to his own advantage; rather, he made himself nothing by taking the very nature of a servant, being made in human likeness. And found in appearance as a man, he humbled himself by becoming obedient to death – even death on a cross. Therefore, God exalted him to the highest place and gave him the name that is above every name, that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, in heaven and on earth and under the earth, and every tongue acknowledge that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father."

These verses describe the profound humility and self-emptying nature of Jesus. Despite being God, Jesus willingly became human and submitted to a servant's role. He even accepted death on a cross, the most humiliating form of execution in that time. However, God exalted him, giving him the highest name and authority. This passage teaches Christians to emulate Christ's humility and selflessness in their relationship with others. It reminds believers of the ultimate glory that comes from self-sacrifice and service to others. In essence the kenosis hymn in the letter to the Philippians emphasizes the idea that true greatness lies in selfless service and humility, and it highlights the transformative power of Christ's example in the lives of believer.
