Lutheran Anglican Roman Catholic Interchurch Committee

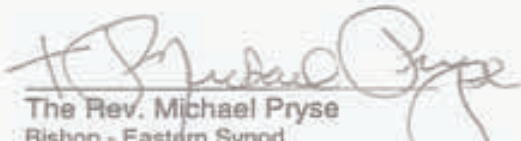

November 2012

Greetings to our beloved in Christ. May His peace and joy be with you!

On the Feast of the Confession of St. Peter (Friday, January 18, 2013) we begin the annual Week of Prayer for Christian Unity. We are invited to reflect upon the desire of Jesus that all may be one, to celebrate the good relationships that already exist, and to seek ways in which we may build fruitful relationships with one another. This year's theme asks, 'What does God require of us?' Scripture tells us that we are required to do justice, and love kindness, and walk humbly with our God. (Micah 6:8) The Week of Prayer for Christian Unity calls us to explore how we can live as just, kind and humble people not only on our own, or even within our own churches, but how we can do that together as the people of God.

The Week of Prayer for Christian Unity calls us to celebrate our common love for God while seeking to understand and honour our differences. Christians working together to do justice, love kindness and walk humbly with our God give evidence of our unity in Christ and our love for all people. As the week draws to its conclusion on the Feast of the Conversion of St. Paul (Friday, January 25, 2013), may our hearts undergo a conversion. May unity among Christians continue to grow and to flourish.

We, your bishops, urge you to pray for Christian unity and to make this week a part of your personal prayer and your parish worship and activities. God bless you as you seek to know and live as God requires you.
